Changing but not closing, says bank

RUMOURS that Lloyds Bank in Bridport is to be closed have been scotched by the banking chain – but a new name will appear above the West Street door in the next two years.

The Bridport branch is one of 632 up and down the country that is currently up for sale.

Other branches in Poole, Boscombe and Wimborne are also on the market as are the Cheltenham and Gloucester branches, owned by Lloyds, in Dorchester, Gillingham and Sherborne.

But a spokesperson speaking from the Lloyds Banking Group head office in London said that there will be no job losses in Bridport and that there will be no changes in customers' accounts.

The change in ownership of the Bridport branch is a part of the Lloyds Bank "Project Verde" which is overseeing the divesting of 632 branches nationwide as part of an agreement to slim down the Lloyds High Street business after they were bailed out by state aid in 2009.

Lloyds Bank are currently in negotiation with potential buyers and a decision will not be made until the end of the year, with the change of name not happening until 2013.

The spokesperson added that the bank was in the process of contacting all customers to inform them of the changes taking place but she stressed that none of the bank employees in Bridport would lose their jobs.

by Philip Evans

A Lloyds customer in Bridport, who did not wish to be named, told the View from Bridport: "I have had an account with Lloyds for many years and I did not know anything about this until I went into another bank and was told about it."

Paul Pester, Chief Executive Officer of the Verde network, said: "The divestment programme provides us with a unique opportunity to redefine our future and demonstrate how we will drive long-term value for our customers, shareholders and employees as well as ensuring the new bank is a formidable competitor on the high street.

"This is an extremely exciting time for consumers and UK financial services, as we create a standalone and well-capitalised bank which will be the seventh largest in the UK serving over five million customers and servicing over eight million accounts.

"The new bank will be a great addition to the UK market and will be focussed on promoting competition and delivering great products and services to its customers."

First customers for park and ride

SATURDAY saw the start of Bridport's Park and Ride Scheme, with the mayor and mayoress the first customers.

The scheme, which operates on a Wednesday and Saturday between the West Bay Road car park and East Street in the centre of town (outside Spar), is run by Bridport Town Council in partnership with West Dorset District Council and is operated by South West Coaches.

The park and ride, which runs until September 17th, got off to a damp start but as our photo shows the Mayor and Mayoress of Bridport Councillor Dave Rickard and his wife Anne braved the elements for a trip to town.

LISA Wilcock, 29, has recently moved to Bridport to take on the role of Marketing Manager at the Bridport Arts Centre.

Having grown up in North Yorkshire, Lisa went to university in Sheffield and studied Art History and Arts Management. Before coming to Bridport Lisa worked for the Scarborough Museum Trust promoting The Rotunda Museum of Geology and the Scarborough Art Gallery.

Lisa is fascinated by architecture, fashion, theatre, film and photography but her main interest lies in contemporary art.

■ WHAT first attracted you to Bridport?

After visiting Bridport for the first time I knew that I wanted to live in the area. The people are warm and welcoming and within a few weeks you feel part of a community. I moved here with my partner Graham who is a photographer and he finds the landscape inspiring. The beaches are fantastically beautiful and of course it always seems a few degrees warmer than the north east.

■ HOW does life here compare to the North East?

There are lots of similarities between Dorset and North Yorkshire Coast. I promoted a geology museum on the Dinosaur Coast so it is fascinating to find myself on the Jurassic Coast which is a world heritage site. I have been blown away by the support that the people in the local area show the arts centre, it is at the heart of the community and everybody including stewards and volunteers are incredibly passionate about the venue. The people I meet really value creativity and enjoy spending time in the arts centre – I feel very lucky to work in such a lively environment.

■ WHAT events are you most looking forward to at the arts centre?

Sculpture on the Beach. I have been looking at snapshots from last year's event and it will be a great day out. I'm also looking forward to Twelfth Night on the Millennium Green; it is the perfect location for outdoor theatre.

■ ARE there any exciting events in the pipeline?

I'm very excited about The Bridport Open Book Festival. There will be an exceptional programme of events for all age groups and levels of interest. I'm in the process of developing a blog for the festival; it will contain all of the latest news - so keep an eye out for it over the next few weeks.

■ WHAT is your favourite art form and why?

I enjoy learning about ephemeral art from the 1970s particularly female artists like Ana Mendieta. She worked with the human form and would carve her silhouette into the sand and record it being washed away by the sea or light or take a photograph of a figure burning through the air. It wasn't very commercial but it was visually interesting and rich in challenging ideas.

■ WHEN did you first become interested in the visual arts?

There was a lot of interesting installation art in the north east when I was a teenager and it was often at the centre of debate, from Bill Viola's controversial projection on Durham Cathedral (where a naked human appears from out of the water) to the Angel of the North which was not always so popular. I've always been drawn to anything visually interesting and installation art is great at surprising unsuspecting audiences.

■ WHAT would be your dream job?

Working at the Pomidou in Paris would be lovely – but I would have to dramatically improve my French!

■ WHO would be your three dream guests at a dinner party and why?

Vanessa Redgrave, Serge Gainsborough and Aldous Huxley.

■ WHAT was the last book you read, film you watched and CD you listened to?

The Kings Speech, Dance Dance Dance by Murakami and The Kinks.

'Forgive me Bridport, do'

A GUARDIAN columnist has asked the town for forgiveness - four years after dubbing Bridport as "Notting-Hill-On-Sea".

Despite having good intentions arts and media correspondent Vanessa Thorpe faced a backlash from residents after she made the comparison in an article in The Observer in February 2007.

At the time the story made front-page headlines locally as outraged residents called for a "public lynching".

Writing in her theatre blog in the Guardian this month however, Vanessa Thorpe apologised for the article. The blog, entitled "Arts, anger and atonement in Bridport", closed with the line, "Forgive me Bridport, do."

In reference to the recent News of the World debacle, she opened the article by saying: "It may not be a scandal on the level of the phone hacking furore but I still have a real problem showing my face in Bridport."

In the column she explained how the original article

by Tom Glover

had intended to look at the "cultural resurgence" in the town and what effect it had had on house prices but admitted the final piece was "unrepresentative".

In the blog she explained: "When the piece appeared I read something that had been heavily laced with celebrity and boiled down to an unrepresentative essence. Bridport residents justifiably suspected I had never been near their town, which hurt. And the damage done by the article has lived on."

She also revealed how a novelist friend of hers had tried to apologise on her behalf at last year's Bridport Literary Festival but had been met with resistance.

The latest blog was not purely an apology but another attempt to promote Bridport's arts scene making reference to "a really interesting new Bridport arts project", the Lyric Theatre.

Niki McCretton, co-owner of the Lyric Theatre, defended the original article and said the town should embrace receiving exposure in the national press. "It's very hard in the UK to get attention from the national press unless you are an arts venue in a major city," she said.

"We work hard with national journalists, like Vanessa, to get them (and their editors) to run with the information we send them."

"I think we need support to let the rest of the country know that we have a thriving, innovative and cutting-edge arts scene in a rural area and that this is not something that only London and other large cities have to offer."

She added: "I think the original article did do a great deal for tourism and the promotion of culture in Bridport."

Residents can share concerns

BRADPOLE residents can share their concerns with police and the parish council at a drop-in session next week.

Bridport Town Safer Neighbourhood Team and Sandy Goldsmith from Bradpole Parish Council will be at Bradpole Village Hall between 11am and 12noon next Thursday, July 28th.

This is an opportunity to have a confidential chat with your local Safer Neighbourhood Team and the parish council about any issues affecting you or your community.

Advertiser's announcement

TREEFROG Murals is a new small business offering a mural painting service.

Any size, any style. We can paint anything you want on your walls.
Mural Painting: Any surface can be covered, on any topic and in any location, external or internal. The service would be suitable for classroom, boardroom, hall, gymnasium, playground, sports venue, swimming pool; in fact, any location required.
The mural could be your logo, reproduction of an image, or we could design something for you in stylised, modern or traditional styles, reflective of the theme you wish to follow. The painters are Fine Arts graduates, with complimentary styles of painting which reflect both the broad sweep and attention to detail.
Exhibition & Curation Consultancy: We strive to produce the highest quality exhibitions for our clients, offering practical advice and support for show management and installation.
Copy painting: We offer a copy service, taking your favourite painting and reproducing it just for you. This could be anything, from Monet to Turner; or even a painting you just like the look of.
Decorative painting: After the painters have been in sprucing up your room, we can give it that finishing touch. Framing doors, windows, little touches here and there; it all makes a difference, transforming your space, giving a bespoke luxury finish.

Commissions: Why not commission a painting? A loved one, yourself, a house, a scenic location, pets, events or valued objects. In fact, whatever you want. Imagine receiving a portrait, immortalising yourself in oil paint. A great gift!

New chairman for outstanding partnership

THE Dorset Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty Partnership has appointed a new chairman to champion the organisation for the next five years.

Andy Foot, farmer and former NFU Dorset Chairman, took on the challenge at the partnership's Annual Forum which was held on his farm in Buckland Newton.

The forum brought together 70 people from environmental organisations, community groups and local authorities to celebrate the work of the partnership over the past year. Key successes this year have been the Wildlife Sites Projects that brought 184 Sites of Nature Conservation Interest into long term sustainable management and the South Dorset Ridgeway Heritage Project that has been engaging people in the rich history of the ridge to the south of Dorchester.

Outgoing chairman Tim Frost, who has led the partnership for five years, was pleased to pass over the chairmanship to another successful Dorset farmer. "This outstanding landscape we have is very much a living landscape – it's a place where people like me work and put our heart and soul into ... it's not just a pretty view. It's a very productive place," he said.

During the afternoon the delegates enjoyed a tour around the new chairman's farm. He was able to show that farming the land can not only generate food but benefit wildlife and the local economy.

Mr Foot said: "I am really pleased to be taking on the role of chairing this successful partnership. I'm keen to make sure that more people know about the Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty in the future and I'll certainly be shouting about it."

Book to celebrate school memories

■ The 1959 reunion

A BOOK celebrating memories of the Beamminster and Netherbury Grammar School (BNGS) will be launched this weekend at the Biennial Reunion of staff and pupils.

The school closed almost 50 years ago and so to make sure memories are not lost the BNGS Old Boys and Old Girls Association (OBOGA) have compiled a book of anecdotes and photos.

OBOGA Secretary Lesley Rundle has compiled the book, which is almost 150 pages long, from contributions sent by former pupils and staff.

The book, which is presented in the schools yellow and black colours, covers aspects of school life such as year groups, the school day, uniform, sports and plays, the Combined Cadet Force

by Tom Glover

and boarding houses.

Books are available at £7.50 each or can be posted for £10 if you contact Lesley on 01308 863787. Any profit will support publication of the Association's newsletter.

The reunion will be at 2pm this Saturday, July 23rd, at the Beamminster School in Newtown. The afternoon will include a big screen presentation of old photographs, a large raffle, a display of memorabilia, book sales and afternoon tea. Ideas on how to celebrate next year's Golden Anniversary will also be sought.

If anyone is interested in attending then please register with Cora Lawrence on 01308 868539 as soon as possible.

Perfect picnic for Beamminster kids

HORSES and cupcakes proved to be the perfect combination as children from the Beamminster Comprehensive Special Learning Unit enjoyed a picnic ride with the Stella Hayward Group of Riding for the Disabled.

Setting off from Meerhay Manor the group rode to Buckham Down where they enjoyed a picnic, complete with cupcakes provided by More than Cupcakes in Beamminster, and were presented with end of year achievement certificates and rosettes by Sir James Spicer.

Head of the special Learning unit, Amanda Eborn, joined the riders with other staff members and pupils for what proved to be a very enjoyable occasion.

ALTHOUGH entries were slightly down this year, the quality of entries was extremely high in Bridport Art Society's 54th annual exhibition, which opened in the Allsop Gallery, Bridport Arts Centre, following an awards evening and private viewing.

The judges, local artists Simon Read and Philomena Harmsworth, found it very difficult to choose a winner and, in many cases, also nominated pieces they thought worthy of a commendation.

Mr Read who was on hand to make the presentations, following a welcome speech from chairman Ann Martin, said: "It was extremely difficult to decide the winners. The standard was very high but Philomena and I worked well as a team and had a very enjoyable time judging."

The exhibition runs until this Saturday (July 23rd) from 10am - 4pm

Winners:

Keith Cast Cup for Best Oil Painting - Kathy Scott; The Holloway Cup for Best Painting in Watercolour - Anthony Hurst; The Al Watkins Cup for Best Painting in Acrylic - Catherine Gundry; The Mary Johnson Award for the Best Painting in Pastel - Fleur Hargrave; The Kathleen Quick Award for work in any other medium - Karen Justice; The Greyhound Trophy for the Best Seascape - Irene Cardwell; The Pat Bayliffe Award for Best Animal Painting - Val Corgan; The Groves Rose Bowl for the Best Flower Painting - Irene Cardwell; The Michael Chappell Award for the Best Painting in Mixed Media - Sue Warren.

Free chance to turn your business green

by Helen Collins

BUSINESSES are being offered a free chance to turn green.

Greening your business workshops, run by Bridport-based Lulu Consulting, will help provide information on how to improve your business' efficiency.

The workshops will give advice on how to reduce the cost of utility bills, reduce your carbon footprint and give information on improving energy use, waste, carbon footprints and developing environmental action plans.

The workshops will include interactive sessions and case studies, and delegates will be encouraged to set up and develop their own environmental objects.

The workshops are being held at the Miles Cross Training Centre, Symondsburry, Bridport and will take place on Thursday, July 28th from 9.15am to 1pm with the first session free.

For a booking form please contact: janerayner@luluconsulting.co.uk or for more information visit www.luluconsulting.co.uk or contact Jane Rayner on 07540535259.

Powerstock pupils performing 'Wind In The Willows' for parents

■ WIND in the Willows is being brought to life by pupils at Powerstock Primary School tonight (Wednesday). The school production will finish its two-night run in the school hut tonight in front of an audience of family and friends. Every pupil in the school has a part in the show and parents, teachers and friends have all been called in to help with costumes, make-up and stage set.

Tickets are £2 each or free to under 16s. The show starts at 6:30pm. A review of the show will appear in next week's View from Bridport.

Skillful sculptors wanted for annual 'Sculpture On The Beach' Competition

SKILLFUL sculptors are being invited to join Bridport Arts Centre at Eype beach next week for a day of fun and competition.

The annual "Sculpture On The Beach" competition attracts a wide variety of competitors from children and families to professional sculptors all with the aim of having fun on the coast.

Participants are encouraged to let their imaginations run wild and make works of art from whatever they find on the beach. Past participants have used everything from stones and seaweed to driftwood. Competitors have four hours to create their sculptures before the judging takes place and the tides wash it all back into the sea.

This year's event will be judged by Adrian Grey, renowned for his stone balancing.

Arts Centre General Manager Dee Fenton said: "Sculpture on the Beach is incredible fun and there is a chance of winning a cash prize. People use all kinds of weird and wonderful found objects to make sculptures. You don't have to be an artist to have fun and all you need to bring is a picnic, some sunscreen and your imagination!"

To take part simply turn up on Sunday, July 31st to register. The event runs from 11am and judging takes place at 3pm. Registration costs £3.

Free electricity that you get paid for generating

Typical domestic customers are earning £600-£1250 per annum.

The government feed in tariff (fit) will pay you 43.3p for every unit of electricity you generate from your own solar PV system, with added benefits of:

- Guaranteed and tax free income for 25 years
- Annual index linked income increase
- Automatically sell your surplus electricity back to your energy supplier

If installed after 1st April 2012 the feed in tariffs will reduce. So to ensure you benefit from the maximum feed in tariffs and gain the highest return on your investment there has never been a better time for home owners to install Solar PV, to take advantage of the high return on investments. Simply visit www.energysavingtrust.org.uk to calculate your estimated annual savings, or arrange a site survey and we will do it for you. PW SERVICES are a registered Micro generation accredited company specialising in all areas of renewable energies, only (MCS) accredited companies can access the feed in tariffs for their customers ensuring that all installations and materials are up to government standards.

Outstanding Ofsted report for Powerstock Primary

■ TOP OF THE CLASS - Staff and pupils are at Powerstock Primary School celebrate their latest Ofsted report

POWERSTOCK Primary School's headteacher has praised a "cracking team effort" following their latest Ofsted report.

The report marked the school in the top two bands in all areas of its delivery, with a number of key criteria being recognised as "outstanding".

The school's work with parents and their care, guidance and support of pupils were two key areas that received the top "outstanding" grade.

Headteacher, Mr Jean-Paul Draper was overseeing his first two-day Ofsted inspection at the school, which coincided with their Unicef Rights Respecting assessment.

As well as receiving the "Good" Ofsted report they also received their Level One Rights Respecting certificate.

Mr Draper said: "The whole process was really hard-work but actually on the day it was very positive because it is actually about showing off your school and telling somebody else what's good about your school."

He continued: "I'm very chuffed with the result, it's a step in the right direction and hopefully next time it will be even better. We have an amazing bunch of people out here, we had TA's in the day before pulling weeds out in the garden, our cleaner stayed very late to make sure everything was perfect and our staff were here from 7am on the day so it was fantastic, a cracking team effort which has been reflected in the report."

Your chance to stand up and be counted at Bridport Arts Centre

WANNABE comedians are being given the chance to try their hand at stand up as part of a new venture for the Bridport Arts Centre.

Following in the footsteps of the popular Jazz Café, the arts centre have now established the Bridport Comedy Café, which will be held in the arts centre's Art Garden Cafe.

Bridport comedian Tom Glover will be the resident compere at the monthly gig and aims to bring some of the best emerging talent to the town, as well as nurturing new local talent.

Each gig will feature one established headliner, plus five open spots who are just starting out in the world of stand-up.

The first show will be held on Friday, September 23rd with musical comedian and Edinburgh Comedy Festival regular Ashley Frieze headlining the night.

Follow up shows will be on October 14th, November 18th and December 16th.

As a regular circuit performer himself, Tom will be looking to handpick the best new acts around, but he is also keen to establish a comedy scene in Bridport.

"I only started doing stand up myself about a year ago after years of wanting to do it. One thing that has amazed me is the amount of people who have told me since that they've always wanted to do it as well," he said.

"It's clear that people in Bridport love comedy and that comedians love coming here, that's shown by the amount of big names we get here now and how often their shows sell out. There are already a handful of us in Bridport who actually perform stand up regularly, but the distance you have to travel would put a lot of people off. I rarely get a gig that is within an hours drive of the town.

"I'm hoping that the comedy café will be the perfect chance for people to try stand up in a supportive environment that's close to home. It will be nice and intimate with a 50-seat capacity and I'm sure the crowds would love to see some local people sharing their views on the world. If you've always wanted to try it then please get in touch and I'll do everything I can to help you with those first gig nerves."

If you would be interested in booking an open spot at any of the BAC Comedy Café shows then contact Tom on 07738 153511 or email tom-glover88@hotmail.co.uk.

Tickets for the shows will be £5 or £3 for concessions and will be on general sale from the BAC box office from August 16th.

■ HEADLINE ACT - Ashley Frieze will headline the opening night of the BAC Comedy Cafe.

www.ace-energy.net

DORSET'S own award winning Ace Energy are the leading suppliers of solar power. Recently they have installed solar at a number of homes within Dorset. With the average electricity bill being around £600 yearly, installing solar on your roof can reduce that bill by up to 50% and provide home owners and landlords with a healthy profit. This is due to the Feed-In Tariff scheme which pays premium rates for power generated from solar power - Dorset households on the scheme are now earning over £850 every year. The tax free, inflation-proof payouts are designed to protect the UK from ever-rising energy prices and help lower carbon emissions. You may have noticed an increase in the amount of roofs proudly showing off their solar panels recently and according to Alan Seviour, Ace Energy's MD, solar has never been more popular.

With interest rates at an all time low investment savvy householders are looking for alternative ways to earn money and solar power offers just that.

Superb new facilities at Freshwater Beach

A SUPERB new leisure facility which opened at Freshwater Beach Holiday Park last week will give a boost to the local economy.

Already a popular holiday resort for caravanners, campers and tourists, the new multi-million pound complex will be open to the general public out of season.

The Jurassic Fun Centre which has taken ten years to bring to fruition following years of planning opposition by the authorities, features a new indoor complex with swimming pool and a pool and wet play area for children, a gym, hot tub and sauna.

On the first floor is a six lane ten-pin bowling alley with bar and a terrace with superb views of the Jurassic Coast.

At the official opening attended by dignitaries, local businessmen, friends and family, Rod Condliffe, managing partner of Freshwater, greeted the guests including James Kennedy, the National Chairman of the British Holiday and Home Parks Association who had flown in from Northern Ireland.

In his address he outlined the history of his family who had lived and worked on this coast as far as records could tell, both legally and in the 19th century illegally as smugglers, and the development of Freshwater as a holiday park.

He spoke of the frustration of working with the local planning officers over the decade since the project had been started, and cited a similar situation in another part of the south-west which had been completed and was up and running after just two years since planning permission was sought.

He thanked all the companies involved in the project from architect to contractors and sub-contractors who had been involved for their hard work, as well as his son Scott, the General Manager for his work in coordinating the scheme in the latter weeks.

The complex was opened by 91-year-old Marjorie Ireland, the one remaining member of the original family company formed in 1956.

Guests were given a tour of the complex before enjoying the glorious views from the terrace during a buffet lunch.

Councillor Gillian Summers, Chairman of West Dorset District Council said: "It is a wonderful complex and I am thrilled about the ten-pin bowling alley. WDDC did a survey locally of the facilities that people would like, and a ten-pin bowling alley was top of the list, so this will suit the bill admirably."

County to vote on future of libraries

CAMPAIGNERS are urging councillors to "vote with their hearts" when the future of Dorset's libraries are decided tomorrow

By Tom Glover

(Thursday) by county councillors.

Dorset County Council will consider four possible money saving solutions at the meeting but they all will either see core libraries, including Bridport, cut their services to save fringe libraries, or see rural libraries handed over to the community to run or being lost entirely.

Boost

Beaminstor, Burton Bradstock and Charmouth are two of the rural libraries whose futures will be decided at the meeting.

The hopes of supporters of Ad Lib, the group campaigning to save all Dorset's libraries, have been given a boost by the news that Conservative members of the council will vote individually rather than as a party at the meeting.

"We are hugely encouraged by the news that there will be a free vote," said Graham Lee, Ad Lib's chairman. "We have known throughout this long fight that several Conservative councillors are unhappy about the loss of these smaller libraries. They didn't want the county's library service to put all its eggs into the basket of the bigger town's libraries."

"Now we know they'll be able to follow their consciences and vote with their hearts we hope we can save the threatened libraries."

Two Ad Lib speakers will address the full council at the meeting in Dorchester, to try to convince them that there is no need to follow the advice of the libraries' managers, who argue that to continue to fund all 34 libraries in Dorset is unsustainable.

Liz Callister, who heads the friends group at Crossways library, will stress to councillors the cultural, social and economic damage that the loss of a full library service will mean to the nine communities facing the axe.

Mike Chaney, of Puddletown friends, will point out that a panel of their own members has worked out a way in which all nine can be saved at no extra cost - and that fewer jobs would be lost if that option is chosen.

Supporters of Ad Lib from all over Dorset will be gathering at County Hall to try to convince councillors arriving for the debate to save all the libraries.

'Now we know they'll be able to follow their consciences and vote with their hearts we hope we can save the threatened libraries'

Inner Wheel supports Marie Curie

FASHIONABLE fundraisers from the Inner Wheel Club of Bridport have presented a cheque for £200 to Marie Curie Cancer Care.

The money was raised at a recent fashion show organised in conjunction with Bridport's Country Casuals shop. The cheque was presented to Amy Llewellyn, Marie Curie Cancer Care Community Fund-raiser for Dorset, Devon and Somerset, by Inner Wheel President Irene Smith at a recent tea party for the charity, also held at the store.

Gymnasts take to the floor

■ YOUNG STARS - Key

by Tom Glover

ATHLETIC youngsters showed off their skills last week at the West Dorset Primary Schools Key Step Gymnastics Competition. Pupils from St Mary's Beaminster, Symondbury, Salway Ash and Parrett and Axe Primary Schools came together for the event at Beaminster Sports Hall. A total of 72 children competed in three different age groups and were judged on floor routines and vaulting by local gymnastics coaches and judges. After their performances four Bridport Elite Gymnasts, who train at The YMCA Dorchester Gym Club, entertained the crowds while the scores were calculated.

The Lions Club of Bridport, who sponsored the certificates, medals and trophies, then presented the children with their awards. The overall team winners, for the second year running, were Salway Ash Primary School. This year it was their Key Step One Team who took the glory after scoring 67.85 out of 80.

The individual gymnast with the highest score, marked out of 20, was Sam Roberts Wray with 17.75. Lions club President Don Morley presented him with his trophy.

Organiser Jan Thorne said: 'Thank you to all of my friends who gave of their time to help the schools choose and train pupils, set up, and on the day judge, supervise and record'

"Also a big thank you to

■ NERVOUS WAIT - Key Step Two pupils await their results

■ PUTTING ON A SHOW - Key Step Three pupils, who put on an impressive display

the six Sports Leaders from year nine at Beaminster School who were excellent and the Head of PE James Wagstaff who was responsible for providing the equipment, getting willing students to carry it all from the old Gym and return it. We all had a wonderful day."

Lions Club President Don Morley said: "It was a well attended and keenly fought competition once again. We were impressed by the enthusiasm of the youngsters and, in particular, the sportsmanship displayed by the young gymnasts who readily applauded each other for their performances and successes.

Melplash show farms competition

THE Melplash Agricultural Society's Farms Competition took place recently with the judges assessing the management and cultivation of the farm, as well as management of the livestock.

They looked at the profitability of the farm, the farming system, crops, livestock, machinery and tidiness among other requirements. All farms were also judged for their conservation and environmental practise and management, with a special award given for the best ley in each category.

Results:

The R M Gillingham Memorial Perpetual Challenge Cup for small farms (with an area up to 300 acres), judges Ms J Elwood & Mr A Foot.

1st - Mr KP Goodfellow, Higher Silkhay Farm, Netherbury; 2nd - Mr & Mrs Geddes, Colesmore Farm, Toller Porcorum; 3rd - Mr K Groves, Higher Grove Farm, Mangerton; 4th - Messrs E & I W Studley, Common Farm & Windsor Farm, Broadwindsor; 5th - Mr & Mrs Solly, Ferndown Farm, Wynford Eagle.

The Kitson & Trotman Perpetual Cup for Best Conservation & Environmental Practice: Mr & Mrs Solly, Ferndown Farm, Wynford Eagle.

Best Ley: Mr KP Goodfellow, Higher Silkhay Farm, Netherbury

The Burrough Perpetual Challenge Cup for medium farms (with an area of over 301 acres and under 600 acres), judge Mr M Hoskins.

1st - Mr B Newman, Larkham Farm, Holywell; 2nd - Mr S Raymond, Childhay Organic Dairies, Blackdown; 3rd (joint) - Messrs Fooks Bros, Manor Farm, North Poorton and Mr E Bowditch, Cooper Dean Estates, Parnham Park Farm.

The Kitson & Trotman Perpetual Cup for Best Conservation & Environmental Practice:

Mr E Bowditch, Cooper Dean Estates, Parnham Park Farm.

Best Ley: Messrs Fooks Bros, Manor Farm, North Poorton.

The Sir David Williams, Bart Memorial Perpetual Challenge cup for large farms (farms with 601 and over acres), judge Mr N Christensen.

1st - Mr R Taylor, The Estate Office, Evershot Farms, Melbury Sampford; 2nd - Mr A Butler, Crutchley Farms, Mappercombe Farm, Nettlecombe; 3rd - Mr R Bugler, Vale End, Lower House Farm, Bettiscombe

The Kitson & Trotman Perpetual Cup for Best Conservation & Environmental Practice: Mr R Taylor, The Estate Office, Evershot Farms, Melbury Sampford.

Best Ley: Mr R Bugler, Vale End, Lower House Farm, Bettiscombe

Rhian shows her skills with a flock

RHIAN Edwards impressed the Melplash Agricultural Society Flocks Competition judges so much with the work she had done with her flock, that they took the unusual step of awarding the 13-year-old a special fourth prize in the small flock group.

The competition rewards local farmers for their shepherding skills and flock management who are looking for good sheep husbandry and profitability. The judge assesses, among other things, the management and handling of the flock, flock conformation, the quality and condition of the sheep, how they are performing and the number of lambs produced per head.

This year the judge was Mr Andy Elford, Warden Hill Farm, Dorchester who was given the difficult task of assessing twenty different flocks in the area. In each class there were different breeds and sheep management methods used. The judging was over two days with the team travelling over 200 miles in the process.

Results:

The Newall Perpetual Cup for large flocks (301 & over head of ewes)

1st: Evershot Farms, Abbotsbury; 2nd: Mr & Mrs Geddes, Colesmore Farm, Toller Porcorum; 3rd: Messrs Maltby, Long Barrow Farm, Long Bredy

The JRB Bowditch Perpetual Cup for medium flocks (51 - 300 head of ewes)

1st: Messrs Fooks Bros, Manor Farm, North Poorton; 2nd: Mr Robert Bowditch, Cooper Dean Estates, Parnham Park Farm; 3rd: Mr & Mrs Solly, Ferndown Farm, Wynford Eagle.

The Melplash Agricultural Society Perpetual Plaque for small flocks (15 - 50 head of Ewes)

1st: Capt & Mrs Jones, Hogchester Farm, Charmouth; 2nd: Mr John Studley, Windy Ridge, Hinton St George; 3rd: Mr Dupont, Langdon Farms, Beaminstor; 4th: Miss Rhian Edwards (age 13) Langdon Manor Farms, Beaminstor

Overall Best Flock - Fooks Bros.

BIG CHEESE - The Countess of Wessex presents head cheesemaker Mike Reeve with the Mendip Medal

Mike is top cheese

A CHEESEMAKER from Bridport's Denhay Farm has been awarded the Mendip medal for excellence at the Royal Bath and West Show.

The Countess of Wessex presented Mike Reeve, head cheesemaker at Denhay Farms for the last five years, with the Mendip Medal.

This award is made by Farmhouse Cheesemakers Ltd to the West Country Farmhouse Cheddar maker who has made the most consistent farmhouse cheddar throughout the year.

Mike has a 100 per cent record for producing top grade cheddar during 2010-2011.

Jim Loescher, managing director of Denhay Farms Ltd, said: "Producing consistent cheddar is as important as producing excellent cheese, and the combination of 10 prizes at the show this year, with the award of the Mendip Medal, demonstrates the care and attention Mike and his team gives to producing Denhay Cheddar for Waitrose and our new brand The Cheese House"

Taking flight and tumbling back down

THROUGHOUT the spring and summer months View From reporter TOM GLOVER is welcoming all challenges in his column "Take on Tom".

With challenges coming in thick and fast he is now booked up to the end of summer but there is still space on the reserve list. If your club, group or organisation would like to be the focus of this weekly column then get in touch as soon as possible by emailing tom@pe-media.co.uk or phone 01297 446154.

This week Tom joined instructor Andrew Pearce of FLYING FRENZY PARAGLIDING SCHOOL for a taster session in the sport.

AS the weeks progress I'm starting to notice a trend in my challenges as they become increasingly extreme.

At this rate, by the end of August I'll be swimming the channel with the WI or climbing Everest with the playgroup.

This week I have hit a new high, quite literally, by trying to learn to fly in a day.

Now this was definitely my most exciting challenge to date. For me, any challenge where you have to sign a disclaimer beforehand accepting the fact that you might die, has to be exciting.

Don't let that put you off though. Although the risks are obvious, the instructor Andrew is meticulous when it comes to safety and any fears I had were soon vanished after his opening talk. He is clearly a man who has done this before and I felt pretty safe in his hands.

In fact, only one of Andrew's students has ever suffered a broken bone on a taster day in 18 years of instructing, which is a pretty impressive record considering the potential dangers.

Before we even think about leaving the ground, we assess the site for hazards, we thoroughly inspect the equipment and we even practice how to avoid injury after an awkward landing.

If it wasn't for the more advanced paragliders circling overhead, any passers by may have wondered what we were being trained up for.

I can now perform a fall that would put Del Boy crashing through the bar in Only Fools and Horses to shame.

Once Andrew was certain we were as safe as we could ever be, and once he had had enough enjoyment from watching us throw ourselves to the ground, he lets us loose with the equipment.

By this time there was no sense of worry anymore, we were all just raring to go. Getting airborne is a lot trickier than you might think though. You have to carry your equipment into position, "build your wall" the term used for inflating the canopy, and then wait for the signal from Andrew that you're ready to go.

I joined Andrew on a particularly busy day as well, there were a dozen of us learning the ropes, all at different stages of development and he was sharing the tuition duties with just one other instructor.

Beforehand, I imagined Andrew's lean physique was because it was hard to find somewhere to eat when you're a few thousand feet up in the air but I soon realise its because he spends his days running up and down hills making sure people like me weren't going to end up in a hedge, a fate that not everyone avoided. His enthusiasm is infectious though, and even when instructing he can't resist breaking off every now and again to get airborne himself, giving us all a display of what can be achieved, some of which defies logic.

My first few flights were a little inconsistent to say the least, when I did manage to get the wing up above my head my flights were short and generally finished in a heavy thud, as I struggled to master the 'flare', the technique used to control your landing. I soon realised why I had to learn to fall correctly.

To paraphrase Buzz Lightyear, I was less flying and more just falling in style at this stage.

For the session we were based at Swyre Hill in West Bexington. It's hard to imagine more perfect countryside with the rolling hills complimented by the Jurassic coastline. It gives you all the more incentive to want to learn. The views are great from the ground but I'd love to see them from a few hundred feet up.

With that on my mind every time I landed at the bottom of the hill, with varying degrees of success, I wrapped up my equipment and carried it back up the hill again.

Towards the end of the day Andrew decided I've learnt enough to graduate to the top of the hill.

With time for one more flight I set everything up perfectly, waiting for the signal, got the wing above my head and then ran as fast as I could.

I reached a height of about 25-30 feet, not record breakingly high but higher than I can jump and that will do me.

■ TAKING FLIGHT: Tom prepares to launch

For a moment I felt like James Bond making an elaborate escape for an undercover hideout in the hills of Swyre, perhaps I've infiltrated a Russian spy ring by posing as a Morris Dancer. Then, like Icarus flying too close to the sun, I 'flared' too late and crashed to the floor.

The whole experience is much like learning to drive, as you learn one phase you can't imagine ever completing the next but gradually it all clicks together.

The path of progress is on the hill to see as well with keen enthusiasts, all bitten by the flying bug, representing each stage of development. Some like me were trying it for the first time, some were on their Elementary Pilot course and others were completing their Club Pilot course before they can go out and fly solo.

The initial cost of learning to fly is not much different to learning to drive either, although I would say the rewards are much greater. And I'm sure anyone who has taken in the views of the Jurassic Coast during their own self powered flight will agree.

The Mariners

Hotel and Award Winning Restaurant

Popular Lyme hotel back in the pink

THE Mariners Hotel and award winning restaurant in Lyme Regis has been returned to pristine condition after last October's serious road crash which caused extensive damage to the 17th century building.

Owners Jerry and Rosemary Ramsdale and hotel staff were shocked that passer-by Alex Quan-Yat-Koon was seriously injured when he was catapulted through the front window of the Silver Street hotel by a Royal Mail van which had been involved in a collision.

Mr Quan-Yat-Koon had both legs amputated as a result of his injuries and Mr and Mrs Ramsdale are pleased that he continues to recover from his great ordeal.

After the accident, hotel staff, family and friends worked around the clock making temporary repairs and getting the business reopened within a week. They did such a good job that it was hardly noticeable that the building had been damaged so badly.

Since then local builders and craftsmen have been working continually to return the building - known locally as "the pink hotel" because of its distinctive exterior - back to its former glory.

As a listed building, Mr Ramsdale had to seek advice from West Dorset District Council officials to ensure that the repairs were carried out in keeping with the historic building with the end result enhancing a major investment that had already taken place in improving facilities at The Mariners.

The 14-bedroom hotel, all with en suite facilities, has now been totally refurbished and Mr and Mrs Ramsdale have overseen a doubling of business since acquiring The Mariners in November 2007.

With The Mariners now well and truly "back in the pink" they are looking forward to a busy summer season and welcoming new and regular customers to what has become one of Lyme's most popular hotels and restaurants.

Historic past with a modern image

THE MARINERS Hotel is one of Lyme's most distinctive buildings and has a history to match.

One of the most famous faces to stay at The Mariners was Beatrice Potter who was inspired to write "The Tale of Little Pig Robinson" when she was a guest at the hotel when she was just 17 years-old.

Many of the illustrations in the book are based on the spectacular scenery she enjoyed while visiting Lyme Regis and neighbouring towns. The Mariners also played host to the Philpot sisters when they moved to the town to collect fossils for which they became famous. The town's museum is named after them.

You can even see one of their fossils embedded in the wall of the hotel's lounge.

Whilst the hotel has a fascinating history, the Mariners is very much an hotel of this time.

The hotel is managed by Stuart Harrop and under the direction of head chef Richard Reddaway The Mariners' restaurant, which offers locally sourced ingredients, including fish from Lyme Bay, was awarded an AA Rosette in 2010 and 2011 and is striving for more accolades.

The restaurant is open seven days a week for breakfast, lunch, afternoon tea and evening meals. In addition to the full a la carte menu, The Mariners also stage theme nights every Wednesday, from Greek to Chinese, all for £10 per person. Another popular initiative is the Friday steak nights.

The Mariners also has an attractive garden area commanding glorious views over Lyme Bay for al fresco dining and barbecues.

The Mariners is available for functions, weddings and parties with its own car parking for guests.

Jerry and Rosemary Ramsdale would like to thank their regular customers for their support during the past few months whilst the hotel improvements have been carried out and thank them for their continued patronage.

At last! A bathroom company that actually guarantees everything for 5 years

No more worries about who is responsible for the whole project! Ocean Bathrooms has a new and totally unique concept for selling their bathrooms. They are The one stop shop for anything beginning with Bathrooms. They actually want you to keep in touch with them after your perfect bathroom has been fitted! They want to know how you are and if you have any problems with any thing to do with your bathroom up to 5 years after you visited them! How about that for customer service? "I really appreciate all our customers and want to take care of them" Says Robert Mühl. Managing director. "I offer a 5 year guarantee on anything in the bathroom just so I can give my customers valuable peace of mind. I want to keep my customers for good and want them to tell their friends about this unique service and my guarantee. I feel very passionate about this, I want to treat my customers how I myself would like to be treated if I was buying a bathroom" If you go to our web site www.oceanbathrooms.com/testimonials6 you will see videos of our customers testimonials, each one unique to a particular room

These customers are blissfully happy with everything and the personal touch they received made the process of a choosing and fitting their bathroom an amazing experience. Take advantage of our £150 July voucher and call us 01308 800500 or visit our Bridport showroom You do not need to worry anymore.

Weatherbury Veterinary Clinic

WEATHERBURY Vets in Puddletown, Dorchester is a real home from home, when we take our animals to the vets we also like to know and have the reassurance that they will be taken care of, well at Weatherbury vets they will. As soon as you step into the practice you are greeted by the patients of the surgery with a hurry of dogs and cats wanting to greet you. On my first visit to the practice I was soon informed that there is a pecking order and Pumpkin the Chihuahua is the leader of the pack thinking he is a much larger breed than his actually size. The vets are a warm and friendly place and I was invited in ever so kindly by Philippa and her colleague Sally. I was informed that the best way to cool down an animal in the heat is a wet tea towel as this will keep the animal hydrated other methods were ice, foil and a fan. Working 6 days a week and offering 24/7 emergency Weatherbury Veterinary clinic is of the highest standards. I know for sure if my pet was taken there they would be in the best care, especially when Philippa holds an MBE for animal welfare. So why not visit now at Puddletown, Dorchester or call on 01305 848221.

Southfield Vets

IF THE past few weeks are anything to go by, one would struggle to think that it is actually summer! However, there has been the odd day and hopefully more to come when we experience the sun beating down on us, perhaps even topping up our tans!

For our pets though the heat of summer isn't always a good thing. Too often we hear stories in the press of dogs dying in hot cars. It only takes minutes for a car, with their glass windows acting like a greenhouse, to reach extreme temperatures. With only the ability to control their temperature by panting, a dog will literally cook. By just opening up the windows a fraction this just isn't enough to keep a car cool enough for them, so unless you can park in the shade, leave doors and boots open and have a specialist canine transit box (like the police) for them, don't even think about leaving your dogs in your car and even then try to avoid it. Similarly, it's not only cars that can heat up and kill, I have had dogs brought to me with heat-stroke which have been left in tents, caravan awnings and conservatories or just lazing in the sunshine all day.

Similarly, over exercising in the heat of the day is dangerous, so walk them either early in the morning or in the evening. If it is at all warm then avoid excessive exercise like ball chasing. I think the most tragic case I dealt with was a collie which was exercised wearing a muzzle which meant he couldn't pant and reduce his temperature and he sadly died. Common sense can save lives!

We all love a tan but remember dogs and cats get sunburn too, if they have white or pink skin, particularly on the ears or nose, then use some factor 50 sun block, they will thank you for it!

Finally, if your pet does get overheated, offer them water, hose them down or dunk them in cool water and if in doubt seek the advice of a vet, it could be literally be a matter of life or death.

WORRY About Your Pets?

We all do, it's only natural – after all you've taken on a great responsibility, caring for your Best Friend.

Now, there is no need to worry and no more feelings of guilt. If you are going away; are out at work or become unwell – we are here to provide the level of care you do – when you can't.

Matt & Maria Brooks-bank started the Petpals West Dorset franchise operation back in 2005, they are a local company with national support. Along with the team they provide full time, dedicated specialist Pet Care services – for which they have been trained and licenced with West Dorset District Council.

All team members are CRB checked and we guarantee professional reliable services and have exemplary references to back this up.

Services include our extremely popular Holiday Home from Home Dog Boarding – no kennels here! Your dog(s) are one of the family.

And now that we also offer trained and professional Dog Grooming (see Groom Dog Editorial) your dog will have an Adventure Holiday & Spa!

We also provide regular Dog Exercising and Home Visits for cats and all pets.

Since we began, nearly six years ago we have hosted a FREE Community Dog Walk, usually at a West Dorset landmark on the Last Sunday of the month – a great way for both dogs and owners to socialise. Sign up for the newsletter for details.

Become a friend of our dog Hannah who regularly contributes on her FaceBook page facebook.com/HannahWonderDog and follow her tweets at twitter.com/HannahWonderDog.

Evelyne O'Hare - West Dorset Chiropractic Centre

WHY should my pet have chiropractic care?

Just like people, animals can sometimes get stiff and sore in their spines and joints. This can often be due to lifestyle. Our pets often have long periods of inactivity, when we are out at work, followed by bursts of energetic activity, when we play with them or take them out for walks. We have bred them to develop certain body shapes, which are different to how they evolved naturally, and we walk them on leads and harnesses, which sometimes they pull against. And of course as they get older they can get wear and tear to their joints.

Dogs and cats can also suffer from many of the same joint problems that we humans get such as prolapsed (slipped) discs or arthritis. We go to the chiropractor for help getting straight again so why not extend the same care to our pets? Chiropractic should never be a substitute for veterinary care, and we work closely with the vets to provide a complete range of care for your animal. After being referred by the vet, your animal chiropractor will take a detailed history about the animal's presenting symptoms and behaviour. The animal's posture will be assessed and movement or gait will be assessed for any lameness or stiffness or if the animal is moving in an unexpected way. A course of treatment will be discussed and you will be advised on aftercare.

Groom Dog

Do you have a Roller, a Scratcher or a Ponger - or even all THREE!
No, I'm not talking about your spouse, but about your Dog!

YEARS of owning and working with dogs professionally, led me to realise that they ALL need grooming - yes, even yours!

I'm Maria Church of

Groom Dog and I've written an article that explains EXACTLY why all dogs need a Groom. Visit my website www.GroomDog.co.uk to read it and find out much more of what services a City & Guilds qualified (with Distinction) Groomer can provide for your prized Pooch.

Even if your best friend is not a Roller, Scratcher or Ponger, then a good Groom, once or twice a year, will help to reduce all that hair lying on your carpet or sticking to your sofa. Removing dead hair from your Dog's coat may also help to prevent skin infections which, may, mean less Vet fees.

For a friendly chat to discuss your requirements call Maria on 01308 888664 or 07403 732327. If you get the machine, please do leave a message as she grooms dogs throughout the day.

Time flies when you're having fun!

On Saturday 30th July Every Cloud in Dorchester will be 1 year old, and to celebrate they are having a big party! Owner Charlotte cannot believe how quickly the time has gone and wants to thank everyone who has supported her independent shop during its first year. She says "The shop has been extremely well received by local shoppers; customers seem to love the uniqueness of our products and the fact that they are supporting local designers".

The shop has come on in leaps and bounds since the doors opened a year ago and there is now a truly fantastic selection of handmade stock, ranging from silver jewellery to handbags, accessories, art and greetings cards. With new designs coming in every week, Every Cloud has already become the place to go to for that special gift. You are invited to join in the celebrations from 10am where there will be cupcakes, bubbly and lots of fun, games and prizes. The party is also a great opportunity to meet some of the extremely talented local designers whose work is showcased at Every Cloud and to learn a little more about their crafts. For more details see their website www.everycloudboutique.co.uk.

See King Tut's Tomb & Dinosaurs in Dorchester

The Dinosaur Museum, in Dorchester, features fossils and skeletons representing dinosaurs, prehistoric reptiles and mammals making it a fascinating visit, especially for children. Life-sized reconstructions of dinosaurs such as T rex, Megalosaurus, Triceratops & Deinonychus are there to be seen and touched. Hands on, interactive and cinematic displays allow the visitor to explore the story of the long extinct world of the dinosaurs. The Great Dinosaur Hunt takes place over the Bank Holiday weekend at the Dinosaur Museum from 27 to 29 August.

The Tutankhamun Exhibition recreates Tutankhamun's tomb, treasures and mummy. Experience the wonder and excitement of the world's greatest discovery of ancient treasure. Be there at the discovery, walk through the ante-chamber and witness the raising of the coffins in the burial chamber. Finally see some of Tutankhamun's greatest golden treasures reproduced in exact facsimile. The exhibition has been extensively featured on international television.

Make a day of it in Dorchester and visit two of its other favourite museums such as the Teddy Bear Museum or the Terracotta Warriors Museum. They are all great all-weather attractions. Great savings to be had if you visit all four, and make it a real family day out in Dorchester.

Everything you could want from a print shop!

Sprint Signs (SW) Ltd has been in the capable and experienced hands of Cathy Walker for more than 7 years and her background in graphic design and print systems has put the business on a firm footing offering just about everything you could want from a print and copy shop.

Her small but dedicated team of Pam, who has 40 years experience in all aspects of the print trade and now Alan, who has over 35 years experience, are able to offer everything from business cards to brochures, even posters up to 42 inches wide and unlimited length. Interior or exterior signboards are no problem as well as vinyl banners and laminated signage.

The other side of the business is garment printing and personalised products. T-shirts, polo shirts, high visibility jackets and bibs can all be printed on the front, back or even sleeves, as well as mugs, mousemats, coasters, keyrings and badges - they are all available from the one-stop print and copy shop right by Dorchester town centre with free parking just around the corner.

New Sci-fi Exhibition at Dorset County Museum

On Saturday 23 July, a brand new Science Fiction exhibition opens at Dorset County Museum. The exhibition will feature a range of props and costumes from some of the most popular science fiction movies and TV programmes such as Star Wars and Doctor Who.

The highlight of the exhibition will be the visit, on Saturday 23 July, of the actor Paul Blake who played the character of 'Greedo', the bounty hunter, in the film Star Wars: A New Hope. Paul will be available from 10.00am until 4.30pm and will be chatting to visitors and selling special signed photographs. This exhibition is on for two weeks only, until Thursday 11 August.

Entry costs just £1.50 for children and £2.50 for adults and children under the age of 5 are admitted free of charge. Visitors buying full entry to the Museum can also visit the Sci-fi exhibition free of charge.

Whirrs, Cogs and Thingamabobs is a special family exhibition also currently running at the Museum. It contains over 150 weird and wonderful gadgets owned by award-winning collector, Maurice Collins and is complemented by a range of strange objects from the Museum's own stores.

A series of special family activities linking with the exhibition will run throughout the summer holidays. These activities will be held every Wednesday morning from 27 July to August from 10.30am to 12.30 pm. Each activity costs just £3 per child and everyone is welcome – there's no need to book, just pop in on the day.

For more information please visit the Museum website on www.dorsetcountymuseum.org or phone 01305 262735.

Rose Woodward is an award winning consultant specialising in helping clients who have weight and health issues. Just five years ago, Rose was 14 stone over her ideal weight. She had been diabetic type two for 16 years, on medication for high blood pressure and high cholesterol, her job in the police service was being affected. Rose could not keep as active as she needed to be, and unfortunately, it took a life-changing injury to make Rose take a long look at her life.

After a nasty assault she suffered while on duty, Rose was threatened with being paralysed from the neck down. She began the Cambridge Weight Plan and, only 11 months later, she had lost 14 stone in weight and was free of diabetes, high blood pressure, high cholesterol and all medication.

Since becoming a Cambridge Weight Plan consultant, Rose has helped over 2,000 clients and, with the opening of her Poundbury clinic, is now here to help Dorset residents to move forward to reduce their BMI while retaining vital muscle. Clients who are facing bariatric surgery or pre-arthritis operations also benefit. Rose also works in hospitals to help diabetic patients lose weight safely and effectively, with long term results.

Poundbury Holistic Health Centre also offers aesthetic surgical treatments, a skin centre, detox centre and colonic hydrotherapy, as well as a range of holistic therapies including Indian head ear candles, hot stones and much more. Consultant heart surgeon Dr Ian Morgan offers aesthetic treatments including botox, dermal fillers, hair loss and thread vein treatments. Laser teeth whitening also available.

Bridport Leisure Centre

Bridport Leisure Centre shortlisted in First Ever Health Club Awards Voted for by the Public!

BRIDPORT Leisure Centre has been recognised for its quality of service and value for money in the Members Choice Health Club Awards 2011.

The unique scheme measures the quality of customer service, facilities and value provided by clubs by asking members to rate them by completing an on-line questionnaire.

Simon Brown who runs the competition explains "Belonging to a good health club is a rewarding experience. Members probably spend more time there than they realise and it's become an integral part of their lifestyle. For the club it's not easy to get every aspect just right. It requires a lot of hard work and a belief that members should have a rewarding experience every time they visit. The Members Choice Health Club Awards aim to find out which clubs are providing the most rewarding experience by asking members to rate their club".

"Only 90 clubs across the UK have reached the shortlist stage of the competition and every single one of them should be extremely proud of that fact. There's no better endorsement for a club than from the customers that are using the facilities on a regular basis and that says a huge amount about the way these clubs are run".

The competition saw over 16,000 gym members complete a questionnaire between January and March 2011. Clubs have been ranked in 15 regions, up to 10 clubs have been shortlisted in each region. In September the regionally gold, silver and bronze winners will be announced as well as the individual Grand Prix awards for Best Club in the UK.

Nick Neale, General

Manager said "we are very proud of the level of service we provide all our members. We believe we offer excellent value for money and this scheme is a great way to prove it. The community of, & visitors to, Bridport and its surrounding villages have supported the leisure centre for many years and we are so pleased to have been nominated. In a way, this Award is as important to our members as it is to all the Staff who work so hard to deliver such a good service. I am very lucky to have a highly committed team who make the leisure centre such a vibrant and important part of our local community."

Zorbing South

IN 1994, Andrew Akers and Dwane van der Sluis invented a big inflatable ball that people could jump inside and roll around in. Initially they thought they could use the ball for walking on water but they soon found they could have more fun rolling down hills in it, and the activity of 'zorbing' was born.

I first heard about Zorbing from "Graham Lawes" a Kiwi who tried a Hydro Zorbing experience in Rotorua in 1998.

He showed me the video footage, which looked totally amazing and crazy at the same time.

I was hooked, I bought into a franchise with Zorb Limited NZ for the South UK and was up and running in 2000 as the pioneers of Zorbing for the British public, at the first Zorbing park in the UK, based in Dorset. We were only offering Harness

Zorbing at that stage, 2 participants safely harnessed opposite each other before being launched down the Zorbing run, revolving head over heels, gaining speed with every revolution, land and sky merge into one as you feel almost weightless. It's the more extreme of the two experiences and you do get dizzy!!

I always remember my first trial, we done a couple of trial runs, then thought

Summer 2011 Holidays

Fun activities to keep the whole family busy this summer

Zorbing South

shall we just go from the top of the hill, I ended up flying over a hedge into an adjacent field not knowing where I was, just recalling the laughter of the my colleagues who had said "it would be fine to go from the top".

From that day on, we realised the potential of a runaway Zorb. Health & Safety is paramount for this activity and it has been the key element for developing our operations, zorbing products and landscaped zorbing run. We have just completed our 10th season with a 100% safety record was launched exclusively at our site, after approval from our local Health & Safety Officer "Matthew Palmer" to offer the experience to the UK public. Matthew and I, experienced the first Dual Hydro ride together, with Matthew Palmer confirming that the ride was safe, exhilarating and great fun! Hydro Zorbing has now proved to be our most popular ride, 1, 2 or 3 people, no harnesses and 20 litres of hot or cold water. Participants are zipped safely inside before being launched down the Zorbing run. Slipping and sliding, feeling immense speed as the Zorb revolves around you - A cross between a waterslide and a rollercoaster. The only waterpouts on land!!

In 2002 Hydro Zorbing

With the development of our site and the uniqueness of the Zorbing, it attracted a great deal of attention, many film crews from all over the world have taken footage as we are the flagship for Zorbing in the Northern hemisphere.

Current special offer 50 % off all rides check out our website for more details www.zorbsouth.co.uk

Osprey Leisure Centre - Summer Sports 2011

THIS school summer holiday Osprey Leisure Centre has programmed the usual variety of popular activities for kids aged 5 -14 years and added to the schedule to give parents the option to enrol their children for the whole week, certainly a benefit for the working mums and dads, all for £50 for the 5 full days.

Amongst the usual mix of activity days Osprey is now offering an indoor football academy on Tuesdays and Thursdays which when added to the half day multi activity sessions on the same day give 2 extra full days from 9am - 4pm which have not been available before.

There is also a competitive swim camp operating throughout the holidays which can be booked by calling the centre and a programme of intensive swim lessons for children wishing to improve their swimming skills if competitive swimming is not for them. Children wishing to collect achievement badges can do so every Wednesday morning at 9.30.

For any further information on the above or the adjacent adverts please feel free to contact the centre on 01305 824378 or visit the centre's website.

Traders book your pitch for Dorset's biggest fete

ORGANISER'S of the Symene Sports Club Fete; reputed to be the biggest of its kind in Dorset; are making a plea for traders to book places for the event on Sunday August 28th as pitches are filling fast.

Although still six weeks away, organiser Richard Balson said: "Unfortunately we do not have space to expand the area of the fete and are therefore restricted to the number of places available.

"We know it is a very popular event and always have to turn people away, so we are suggesting that if you have not yet booked a pitch you need to hurry up."

Anyone interested can contact Richard on 01308 422638.

Three day 'Woodfest' for Lifeboat week

THE Woodmead Halls in Lyme Regis is to host a three day indoor musical event as part of the Lifeboat week celebrations.

'Woodfest' takes place from Friday, July 22nd to Sunday, July 24th and sees a selection of local talent and acts from further afield, including Germany and Canada. The event will be opened by Mayor of Lyme Regis, Sally Holman, and Town Crier Phil Street will make the first big noise of the day!

Food will be available from the kitchen, and the bar will be open 2pm-2am on Friday and Saturday.

Festivities kick off on Friday with a battle of the bands, featuring seven bands. £500 prize money will be split between the top three (all acts receive £20 to cover expenses). Judges will be Oli Dixon (Papa Le Gal), Billy Matthews (local musician), Rob Michael (RNLI), Andy Cable (Axe Music Axminster) and Adam Sweet (local musician). Admission for the Battle of The Bands is by donation.

Doors open at 8pm on Friday for live music, with The Triangulators, coming from Bristol, leading the way. Local favourite Adam Sweet will then perform his trademark solo acoustic versions of classic rock songs, before headliners 'Papa Le Gal' really get the party started.

Saturday afternoon music, with doors opening at 2pm, comes from Act of Creation, from Germany, Bad Apples, from Yeovil, and Lyme's own Delta Tango 7, as well as djing Mr Ben. Doors open on Saturday evening at 8pm, with music from Mary Lands Pure Dirt Band, also from Lyme Regis, and Canadian headliners Mosquito-B. Tickets, which include admission for Friday and Saturday, cost £5 (in advance) or £6.50 (on the door) each.

Billy Matthews will perform a Cabaret and Piano show in the Small Hall after midnight on Friday and Saturday night.

Sunday will feature 'Song of the sea' open mic sessions with invited guests, with doors opening at 2pm.

'Woodfest' will be brought to a close with 'The Last Waltz' sequence dancing, with tickets £2 for members and £3 non-members. The festival finishes at 10.30pm.

For tickets or more details call the Tourist Information Centre on 01297 442138, or visit www.lymeregis.tv/legends.html. Advance tickets are available from Serendip Books, 11 Broad Street, Lyme Regis, and from the RNLI Shop at the Cobb.

Marvin Ayres tour heads to Bridport

BRITISH modern-classical composer/cellist/violinist/pianist and ambient producer Marvin Ayres comes to Bridport this Friday (July 22nd) for a special live show. Martin is famed for his compositions minimalist albums, incorporating spatial soundscapes and psycho-acoustics and latterly 5.1 Surround Sound.

Marvin has also produced a number of film and TV soundtracks, and also works with Curved Air's Sonja Kristina on their MASK project. His collaborations with film Artists have been screened at the Tate Modern, the ICA, the Sundance festival, and other international galleries and film festivals and on UK Classic FM.

Signed in 1999 to the avant-garde label Mille Plateaux, Marvin released two minimalist albums, CelloSphere and Neptune to critical acclaim.

Marvin has also worked on a number of other projects recently, including, arranging and performing strings on songs for Adam Ant, A. Bowie, and Jimmy Pursey for a World Aids Day album, collaboration on the new B.E.F (British Electric Foundation) project, and is working on a new album with Martyn Ware (Heaven 17/Human League). He also composed the music for the U.S hit TV show: "Lisa Williams - Life Among The Dead".

The majority of Marvin's career has been in production, composing, playing and recording his music. Now Marvin is taking his extraordinary talents "on the road". An opportunity to see this unique live show should not be missed!

The show takes place at Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, July 22nd, doors opening at 7.30pm for and 8pm start. Tickets cost £12 and are available from the box office on 01308 424204.

Super summer line-up at Electric Palace

BRIDPORT'S Electric Palace is just about to release its Summer/Autumn programme and it's packed full of entertainment.

There will be fun for the family on Saturday, July 30th with a screening of Sir David Attenborough's Flying Monsters with a live Q&A via satellite link up. Much of this amazing Jurassic film was made locally at Lyme Regis.

On Friday, August 5th Sublime Folk return with three super acts. Your host Stompin' Dave welcomes the beautiful harmony of award winning acoustic duo Tinderbox and the remarkable musicianship, and effortless stagecraft of Maurice Dickson from Northern Ireland and sublime Irish pipes of Catherine Ashcroft.

And then the music kicks in.... a double weekender kicks off on Thursday 18th with award winning blues band The Producers followed on Friday 19th with GAGA paying tribute to rock's biggest rollers with an evening of guitar anthems from Clapton to Queen with plenty of Hendrix and Zeppelin in between.

The August bank holiday weekend starts with The Rollin' Stoned on Friday, August 26th. With shamelessly camp costumes but totally serious musicianship, the band are billed as the UK's unrivalled tribute to the greatest British rock 'n' roll band ever. Two hours of seriously good music and fun.

The following night on Saturday, August 27th, Ninja Tune recording artist and musical magpie Mr. Scruff brings his feel-good freestyle blend of hip hop, soul, funk, jazz, disco, house, reggae, latin, afrobeat, breaks and more to the Electric Palace for one of his infamous five-hour DJ sets.

The Electric Palace has a fantastic programme for September and beyond, with a programme being released this week. September alone has weighty talent from the likes of The Secret Sisters, The Jacqui Dankworth Quartet, One Man Two Guv'nors starring James Corden, Devlin, Spiers and Boden (Bellowhead), Magic of Motown and comedian Jo Caulfield... and that's not even getting onto October!

For more information visit www.electricpalace.org.uk or pick up a programme for the Bridport Tourist Information Centre. Box Office: 01308 424901.

Action for Children Car Tour gears up for success

WOOLBRIDGE Motor Club celebrates its final 50th anniversary with a new event, a non-competitive tour to include the Dorset Jurassic coastline for which The Dorset Nightstop programme from Action for Children has been named as the official charity to benefit.

The Woolbridge Motor Club is promoting a non-competitive touring assembly which will see up to 150 cars start a one hundred mile route at the hillclimb venue of Wiscombe Park in east Devon, with crews following a route through scenic Dorset, including the Jurassic World Heritage coastline, prior to finishing at the Bovington Tank museum; a suitable location considering the clubs inception.

The popularity of the event is already evident with a broad selection of cars entered including two Lagonda Rapiers from the mid nineteen thirties and a Rover 12 long wheel base from the same era. The fifties decade is represented by a MG TD and a brace of Triumph TRs, one a TR2 and also an ex-works TR3 rally car. The history of many of the entries is diverse but a 1978 Mercedes Benz 350 SL was originally owned by Led Zeppelin drummer John Bonham. The late Bonham is generally considered by many to be the greatest drummer in the history of rock music.

This non competitive tour type event is open to Woolbridge members and non-members alike with a number of places still available.

There are no restrictions on the age of the cars eligible to partake in the tour but those whose origin is covered by the fifty-year span of the club and/or of particular motor interest will be accepted. Further information and entry forms are available at www.woolbridge.co.uk.

The organisers have nominated the local Dorset Nightstop initiative promoted by Action for Children as a benefactor. This scheme provides emergency accommodation for homeless young people in Dorset. Further information is available at www.actionforchildren.org.uk.

Poetry for Pleasure

by Frank McGarry

Mervyn Peake (1911-68) is better known as a novelist and illustrator than he is as a poet and yet his published poems number well in excess of two hundred. In June we featured four poems, all from different authors, about the dawn. This morning poem was written by Peake in 1929.

BIRTH OF DAY

*Th'invisible scimitar of Morn,
Again had passionately torn
And slashed the Sky's pale neck;
Way down aye far within the East
Where paleness reigns, and pale stars cease
The Sky's wide bowl to deck.*

*There where the long and cruel blade
Within those livid heavens had made
Its deep sweeps, in the Sky -
Blood in the gashes, welled; and grew;
Intensified; diffused; and blue
Slate coloured clouds stole by.*

Intensely deep, the Great Sky thrills
In a welter of Blood and Grey;
And in that welter of living fire
Be-jewelled and robed to his heart's desire
Was born - young Day.*

Much of Mervyn Peake's poetry was written in the dark days of World War II and its aftermath. This short poem, for example, was penned in 1946.

THE FLAG HALF-MASTED IS A PEOPLE'S POEM

*The flag half-masted is a people's poem -
How naked is the uppermast in air!
How empty the high mast-head pitiful!
Though who has died the crowd is unaware.*

*Is it the symbol that holds tragedy?
The toys of the dead child float sea-grief under,
O heart! half-masted heart! run up your ensign.
No, not in truth but in its ghost is wonder.*

After reading the 'Collected Poems' from FyfieldBooks I decided the poem I liked most of all was 'The Rhyme of the Flying Bomb', which has 125 verses. Or about 120 too many for our wee poetry corner. It is a moving narrative of a London air raid in which a sailor, who is himself dazed and lost in the chaos of the bombing, finds a newborn baby still alive in the arms of its dead mother:

*"And the babe that was born in the reign of George
Lay asleep in the sailor's arm,
With the bombs for its birthday lullaby*

Star Wars actor to make Museum appearance

ON Saturday, July 23rd, a brand new Science Fiction exhibition opens at Dorset County Museum. The exhibition will feature a range of props and costumes from some of the most popular science fiction movies and TV programmes such as Star Wars and Doctor Who.

The highlight of the exhibition will be the visit, on Saturday, July 23rd, of the actor Paul Blake who played the character of 'Greedo' the bounty hunter, in the film Star Wars: A New Hope. He will be in the museum from 10.00am until 4.30pm and visitors will be able to purchase signed photographs as a reminder of the day. As Paul is only in the Museum for one day, anyone wishing to meet him will need to make sure they arrive in good time to have a chat, ask questions, and get an autograph.

The cost of the exhibition is just £1.50 for children and £2.50 for adults. Children under the age of 5 are admitted free of charge. As the display will only be shown in the Museum until August 11th, sci-fi fans are encouraged to visit early to avoid disappointment.

And the flames for its birthday dream."

Peake was a happily married family man and, it seems clear, some of his verse was written with his wife Maeve in mind. Here are two examples.

OUT OF THE CHAOS OF MY DOUBT

*Out of the chaos of my doubt
And the chaos of my art
I turn to you inevitably
As the needle to the pole
Turns - as the cold brain to the soul
Turns in its uncertainty:
So I turn and long for you;
So I long for you, and turn
To the love that through my chaos
Burns a truth,
And lights my path.*

AS THE KITE THAT SOARS

*As the kite that soars on the pull of its line
My heart soars up at the pull of thine
And thine at the pull of mine.*

PHILL JUPITUS COMES TO BRIDPORT ARTS CENTRE

Phill Jupitus

PHILL Jupitus returns to Bridport next Saturday, July 30th for a stand up show at Bridport Arts Centre.

Jupitus began his career back in 1984 as 'Porky the Poet' spouting political rhymes. Since then he has been a DJ at Glastonbury, hosted his own radio show and is a team captain on TV panel game Never Mind The Buzzcocks.

This summer he is returning to what he does best: Stand up. Erudite, troubled, occasionally mean, if you've only ever seen him on TV being convivial in a sweater then expect to spill your drink in fury/joy.

The show starts at 8pm. Tickets, costing £12, £11 for members, and £8 for concessions are available from Bridport Arts Centre Box Office - call 01308 424204.

Burton Bradstock Players will go 'Out of Focus'

VILLAGE Halls are used for so many different activities and in Burton Bradstock we like to accommodate all hobbies and activities.

However what is going to happen when five of these, all involving very different types of people, are all booked on the same evening?

Burton Bradstock Players will be solving this problem in its very own hall from Wednesday 27th July to Saturday 30th July from 7.30 pm, while performing the comedy "Out of Focus" by Peter Gordon.

Tickets are available from Burton Bradstock Post Office or telephone 897389, Adults £7.00, under 16 £5.00.

Milton Abbas 18th Century Street Fair

The crowds gather at a past fair

EVERY two years an 18th century street fair takes place in the picturesque village of Milton Abbas. This event attracts thousands of visitors and is the perfect day out for the whole family. The Street is closed to traffic and decorated with swathes of home-made bunting. Residents and stallholders dress in 18th century costume. The rows of thatched whitewashed cottages fronted by broad greens are the perfect backdrop for traditional market stalls and entertainment. While beer tents, local food delicacies and Dorset crafts will appeal to the adult visitors, there will also be plenty to do for youngsters, with face painting, maypole dancing and children's entertainers.

The Milton Abbas Street Fair (between Blandford and Dorchester) runs from 11am to 5pm on Saturday, July 30th. Parking is free. Adult contribution of £6.00 requested at entry. Seniors £4.00, children £3.00, families £13.00. For further information call 01258 880229 or visit www.miltonabbas.org.uk.

THIS WEEK'S
NEW RELEASESCARS 2 ^U 3D

In Disney Pixar's Cars 2 star race car Lightning McQueen (Voiced by Owen Wilson) and his pal Mater (Larry the Cable Guy) head overseas to compete in the World Grand Prix race. But the road to the championship becomes rocky as Mater gets caught up in an intriguing adventure of his own: international espionage.

Also features voices from Michael Caine, Eddie Izzard and Emily Mortimer.

BEGINNERS ¹⁵

From writer/director Mike Mills comes a comedy drama about how deeply funny and transformative life can be, even at its most serious moments. Beginners imaginatively explores the hilarity, confusion, and surprises of love through the evolving consciousness of Oliver (Ewan McGregor). Oliver meets the irreverent and unpredictable Anna (Melanie Laurent) only months after his father Hal (Academy Award nominee Christopher Plummer) has passed away. This new love floods Oliver with memories of his father who following 44 years of marriage came out of the closet at age 75 to live a full, energised, and wonderfully tumultuous gay life. The upheavals of Hal's new honesty, by turns funny and moving, brought father and son closer than they'd ever been able to be. Now Oliver endeavours to love Anna with all the bravery, humour, and hope that his father taught him.

HORRIBLE BOSSES ¹⁵

Nick (Jason Bateman) hates his boss, mostly because he's expected to work from before sunrise to after sunset and his boss, Mr. Harken (Kevin Spacey), calls him out for being a minute late and blackmails him so he can't quit. Dale (Charlie Day) hates his boss, Dr. Julia Harris (Jennifer Aniston), because she makes unwelcome sexual advances when he's about to get married. But Dale is on that pesky list of child offenders so he can't quit. Kurt (Jason Sudeikis) actually likes his job and his boss, well, up until his boss dies and the boss's coked-out, psychopathic son takes over. But who would be crazy enough to quit their jobs in such poor economic times? Instead Nick, Dale and Kurt drunkenly and hypothetically discuss how to kill their bosses, and before they know it, they've hired a murder consultant to help them pull off the three deeds.

Hemstock festival bigger and better than ever

FOLLOWING the success of Hemstock '07, the team are back, aiming to make Hemstock bigger and better on September 17th.

This festival set on private land within the stunning rolling hills and lush countryside of Dorset is about providing the very best in new, progressive music, local delicacies, comedy and literature.

Hemstock is a non-profit organisation with all proceeds raised going to support Prostate Cancer Research and Mondo Challenge (a charity which focuses on providing schools and educative grants to remote areas of India).

From midday organisers intend to cook up a musical storm on the main stage by fusing eclectic flavours from Electro Swing, Jazz, Hip-Hop, Rock n Roll, Blues, Folk, Roots and Reggae.

As well as musicians and tents there will be stand up comedy, recitals from well known poets and authors infused with scrumptious local foods and cider.

All this take us right up to the grand finale, the headline act, followed by an outstanding fireworks display over the festival site.

This year's headliners are The Correspondents - Mr Bruce and Chucks, pictured below - who collaborate to revamp vintage sounds for the modern ear.

Resuscitating sampled relics with squelchy synths over dusty drum loops they've depicted the trials and errors of Love, Lust and Loss over a foot-tapping toe curling amalgamation of Electro, Drum 'n' Bass, Swing and Boogie Woogie.

Starting out in November 2007, old friends Mr Bruce and Chucks, returned to London after a firm schooling at their respective Universities.

In Leeds, Mr Chuckles had been tinkering with the sounds of Hip Hop, Jazz and Dance music for several years, meanwhile further north in Edinburgh Mr Bruce exerted his vocal dexterity over Drum 'n' Bass, Breaks & Funk.

The unlikely pair cut their teeth at a few parties and decided to cement the live performance relationship in their makeshift recording studio. Since then tracks have been recorded, stages have been stomped and knees have hit nipples.

After their set the party will continue, with DJs dropping some of the most cutting edge sounds around.

Stompin' Dave to make guest appearance with Earl Jackson

STOMPIN' Dave and his band made a very successful debut at The Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis last Saturday. With standing room only Dave gave an extravaganza of a show as promised. He played banjo, fiddle, piano, guitar, sang and tap danced. Dave kept the Lyme Regis audience entertained with a selection of both acoustic and electric music. The two sets including trick banjo where Dave hurled and span his banjo whilst continuing to play and dance. Dave also pounded out rock n roll and blues numbers on the Marine Theatre's grand piano.

Dave commented "We had a wonderful evening at The Marine Theatre, I was delighted that we managed to pull in such a good crowd for our first appearance there. Many thanks to everybody at the theatre who helped to make it such a special evening."

Dave will be appearing as a guest musician in Earl Jackson's band this Friday 22nd July. Dave says "This Friday promises to be a great night. Earl's appearance is an invitation for all to come and let their hair down. Come and boogie to Earl's infectious rock n roll rhythms. I met Earl at The Boogaloo Blues festival I performed at this year in Torquay and I was really knocked out by his playing and singing, but most of all by his infectious enthusiasm and joy for music. We had so much fun playing together at the festival we were still jamming at 3am. Friday promises to be a real hootenanny of a show, in a blues and rock n roll style, with surprise appearances promised by some other top local musicians. Not only that but we will have Errol Linton one of the UK's finest harmonica players appearing. I'm sure this is going to be a very special evening, don't miss it."

Based in Nottingham, Earl is a well known figure on the British rock n' roll and blues circuits. He has made appearances on BBC radio and TV including the prestigious Jonathon Ross show, a widely acclaimed success. Earl is currently causing a sensation appearing as Chuck Berry in the popular theatre show Rockin' On Heavens Door. The Mad Rat Magazine has described Earl as "entertainment with a capital 'e'".

Tickets for A Rockin' Dance Party with Earl Jackson can be purchased from Bridport Music (01308) 425707 or from Bridport TIC (01308) 424901. For online ticket sales visit the website www.stompinstore.com. Doors open at 7pm the show starts at 8pm.

HOW TO
SPREAD

Medical experts explain that we are "more prone to putting on body fat as we age, due to loss of muscle. With this loss of muscle there will be a lowering of your metabolism" (from Jenny Murray Women's Hour, BBC, Spring 2010).

Mike Hensman is a specialist in reducing bodyfat, using proven resistance based training techniques, which he will teach you in your own home. Result - you stay toned, your metabolism stays high, you feel fitter, stronger and leaner. What's to lose?

Brewery tour

Visit Palmer's - the oldest thatched brewery in the UK

We welcome visitors to our Brewery from Easter to September. The fascinating guided tour starts at 11 am on every weekday and lasts for about two hours. These specialist tours are very popular and we do advise you to pre-book. The charge we make enables you to see every stage of the centuries-old brewing process. We'll also offer you a glass or two of Palmer's ale or a soft drink, and you will also be presented with a commemorative glass tankard. You can book at Palmer's Wine Store, next to the Brewery in Bridport, by calling 01305 427500 or online at www.palmersbrewery.com

Post House Potential

FOR anyone planning on moving to this lovely part of the country, the whole Jurassic coast area is high on the list of preferred locations. Many want to be within easy reach of the coast and most people are looking for an interesting property with character in a good location without the drone of road noise.

In these days of uncertainty, many buyers are reluctant to commit themselves to anything other than the perfect property that ticks all their boxes. However, so often that perfect property just does not exist and buyers end up spending a long time in rented accommodation just waiting for the right one. Perhaps then, it is time to think outside the box a bit and consider the benefits of what is available after all? Take this property for example, it certainly has an abundance of character and is in a good village location with little road noise, being set way back from the main road but it is also convenient for easy access to the coast (just 3 miles away) and the market town of Axminster with rail links to London Waterloo (about 2½ miles away). There are facilities within a short walk (i.e. for milk, bread etc) and beautiful countryside with great walks on the doorstep.

Musbury village has a primary school and a thriving community, with events to become involved in or just enjoy. The house has been the village post office and shop for many years. However, due to ill health, the owners are giving up and the property has been granted planning permission for change of use to residential.

The accommodation is well presented and currently comprises three bedrooms, bathroom, first floor sitting room, dining hall, kitchen and breakfast room but the extensive shop and post office premises can now be added to the accommodation to form a substantial home, which could provide four bedrooms and three or four reception rooms depending on how it is altered – it just needs a little imagination!

The most surprising additional bonus to the property is a very large stone barn currently used for garaging and storage. There are several options for this, maybe convert to use as an annexe or holiday let (subject to PP of course) or perhaps garaging or hobby space. As the pretty walled courtyard garden is not huge, it may just provide an extension to the garden – a great place for children to play during wet weather.

The property is Grade II Listed and is offered to the market with an asking price of £395,000. For more information or to book a viewing, please call Gordon & Rumsby on 01460 30888.

Three bedroom mid terrace house in Uplyme with wonderful views

SITUATED in the village of Uplyme, close to local facilities this mid terrace house has been updated and improved by the present owners. Backing on to open fields and with wonderful views across the Lym Valley this is a well presented house with gas central heating and uPVC double glazing.

The accommodation briefly comprises, entrance hallway, open plan living accommodation with lounge and kitchen dining room with doors to the rear garden. Upstairs are two double bedrooms and a third smaller bedroom suitable as a nursery or study.

Uplyme offers facilities for everyday requirements, including a Petrol Station/convenience shop with Post Office. There is a lovely church, village hall, cricket club, playing fields and tennis court. The market town of Axminster, with its main railway connection to Waterloo (approximately 2 3/4 hours), is about 5 miles to the West and Bridport is some 11 miles to the East. The coastal resort of Lyme Regis, with all the day to day amenities one could require, is about 1 mile away. Taunton and Exeter are within a radius of about 30 miles, with access to the M5 motorway. The county town of Dorchester is a similar distance away.

An East Devon District Council housing restriction applies to this property. For further information please contact East Devon District Council - 01395 516551.

The asking price for this property is £225,000. For more information about this wonderful home please call Fortnam Smith & Banwell Lyme Regis on 01297 445666.

BEAMINSTER - £319,950

DEER View is a modern detached house situated in the corner of a peaceful and sought-after cul de sac.

The property has a spacious sitting room with dining area, which leads to a conservatory overlooking the garden. The kitchen has a breakfast area, useful pantry under the stairs and a door leading to the side path. The master bedroom has an en-suite shower room, and two of the further three bedrooms are double rooms. There are UPVC double-glazed windows throughout, gas-fired central heating, cavity wall insulation and excellent loft insulation, resulting in the property scoring very highly on the energy performance ratings. Further to this there is an alarm system.

The enclosed rear garden is level and has gated access to the fields, which are situated behind the property. This leads onto to a lovely walk through the fields directly into the Town Square.

Accommodation includes: entrance hall, sitting room with dining area, conservatory kitchen / breakfast room, cloakroom, master bedroom with en-suite shower room, three further bedrooms, family bathroom, upvc double-glazed windows, gas-fired central heating, driveway, single garage and enclosed rear garden.

The asking price for Deer View is £319 950. To receive particulars or to arrange a viewing please contact Elder & Froy at our Beaminster office on 01308 862606. To view the full sale particulars and floor plans please go to www.elderfroy.co.uk.

FISHPOND BOTTOM - £630,000

NESTLING in the Marshwood Vale on the edge of the West Dorset/East Devon Borders, this substantial property is set within 1.5 acres of Grounds with a Paddock.

This most attractive 4 bedroom house benefits from leaded light double glazing and central heating. The property has been the subject of much improvement by the current owners in recent years and the end result is a large, tranquil rural idyll with stunning views across the Vale. The interior decor and fittings are very tasteful and well designed. Viewing, we suggest, is essential to appreciate all this lovely country home has to offer.

Ground Floor: Large Hallway - Modern Shower Room

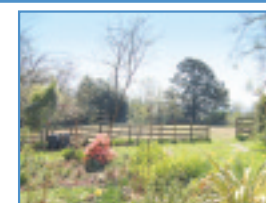

- Galley Farmhouse Kitchen + Utility Room - Double aspect Sitting Room + open fire - Dining and Sun Room

First Floor: - Three Double Bedrooms - Study/Single Bedroom - Family Bathroom with twin sinks

Outside:- Stable - Integral Workshop + Garage - Mature gardens - Orchard area - 1.5 Acres of Grounds incl Paddock - Far Reaching Panoramic Countryside Views- Privacy.

Available Freehold Guide Price £635,000.

Details from Fortnam Smith & Banwell in Charmouth 01297 560945.

BRIDPORT - £475,000

HOLLOWAY Estate Agents are pleased to present a rare opportunity to purchase a detached period town residence with annexe in popular residential area within walking distance of the town centre.

The accommodation in the main property comprises Reception Hall, Lounge with Study off, Kitchen, Dining Room. Cloakroom/Utility Area, Three Bedrooms and Family Bathroom. The Annexe comprises Kitchen, Living Room, Wet Room and Bedroom.

The annexe has its own entrance. This Annexe has been adapted for an independent invalid relative and offers opportunity for a guest suite or potential for home income.

This substantial house retains many character features including open traditional cast iron fireplaces, high ceilings being moulded and corniced and all principle rooms are of excellent proportions. It benefits from backing onto open land, has front and rear vehicle access for parking, walled garden and gas central heating.

For further information or to arrange a viewing contact Wendy Fleet at Holloway Estate Agents 01308 422121 or visit the website www.e-holloway.co.uk

PRESTON - £289,950

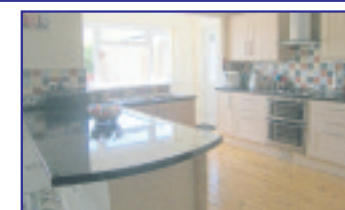

ROXLAND Estates are delighted to offer this 3 bedroom detached bungalow with rural views in a sought after residential location within Preston. The property has been fully renovated by the current owners and is presented in immaculate order.

The accommodation on offer comprises: hallway, newly fitted open plan kitchen with large breakfast bar and sitting room, conservatory, 3 good size double bedrooms and a recently fitted family bathroom with fully tiled walls and new white suite. To the front of the property is a long driveway with parking for several vehicles and a single garage. To the rear is a fully enclosed garden which has been paved for ease of maintenance. The views from the rear of the property are uninterrupted over open fields to the south.

With a guide price of £289,950 this property must be viewed to appreciate all that it has to offer.

Sweeney's success falls on hard ground

TO A LOT of people it appears that just as it looks as if they are starting to make progress or achieve success, a piece of bad luck undoes all the good.

That it appears to be the case with Nathan Sweeney, Bob Buckler's stable jockey.

The 24-year-old was in the form of his racing career when he was unshipped from Ethiopia at Newton Abbot on July 4th.

He was lucky that despite being in the leading three at the time, that in the main the other 12 horses in the race avoided him; that is all but one.

Scrambling clear to the safety of the rails after the field had passed, it looked as if he had got away with just a gash on his leg, but unfortunately further examination showed that he had fractured his tibia.

Speaking to him at his rented accommodation at Whitcombe Stables, near Dorchester, he greeted me on two sticks but surprisingly with no plaster cast but three marks on his shin; one where the plate had been inserted and two for the pins holding it in place.

"I was lucky that only one horse kicked me, it could have been worse, but I thought I had got away from it," Sweeney said.

"And it could have been worse and happened in the middle of the winter season when it is much busier."

The amiable Irishman from County Cork was looking forward to a good season in the saddle, which started at the end of April, having already ridden as many winners as he has done in each of the previous two seasons since joining Buckler in the summer of 2009.

His seven wins from just 21 rides, with another seven placings gave him the top strike rate of all NH jockeys this season, even ahead of the likes of A P McCoy, and he looked to be heading for the success he had dreamed of when he finally decided to be a jockey.

The youngest of four he grew up with horses around him, but had never been interested in them until he was about 14 years old.

"My two brothers had a pony from about the age of two, and they started riding and hunting, and when they grew too big for it passed it on to my sister. It was only when she grew out of it that I thought I would give it a go.

"I persisted with it and began to enjoy it as I became more skilful and began riding out with the local hunt and entering hunter trials.

"A friend of the family David Fenton trained point-to-pointers and so I got a job riding out at weekends and in the school holidays, and quickly got the bug.

"Thoughts turned to becoming a jockey, but I changed my mind for some reason and when I finished school at 18, I went to Trallee College in County Kerry where I studied construction for two years.

"In the summer of the second year I got a job at Jonjo O'Neill's stable (he comes from County Cork as well) at Jackdaw Castle at Stow-on-the-Wold for ten weeks where I rode out and schooled some of the horses.

"However I got homesick and went back to Ireland and got a full-time job with another former top jockey Adrian Maguire at Lomardstown in County Cork in September 2007.

"Having obtained my amateur licence I started getting a few rides, my first being on New Year's Eve 2007 on Killutagh Thunder who finished sixth in a point-to-point at Dromhane, where I finally got my first winner on March 17th 2009 on Paddy Corney."

Sweeney explained that racing in Ireland is limited, and that he therefore wanted to move to the UK like most top Irish jockeys, where there is a lot more racing.

"There are a lot more opportunities over here. Trainer John Supple's brother Gerry used to ride for Bob, and it was him that got me the chance to join Bob's yard."

Having obtained his conditional license, success was instant as he rode on one of the stables' all-time favourites I Hear Thunder to victory in a handicap chase at Fontwell in October of that year, in what was his first ride ride for Buckler.

January 2010 brought him the biggest success to date of his short career when he piloted The Sawyer to victory in the Victor-chandler.com Handicap Chase at Ascot, before horse and jockey completed the double a week later at Cheltenham by winning the Betfair Trophy Handicap Chase (grade 3), regarded by Sweeney as his most satisfactory win so far.

At 9st 7lb he is light for a jump jockey and has thought about switching to the flat.

"I've definitely been thinking about it, your career is certainly a lot longer, another 10-15 years, and you can earn far more money, but I do love NH, there is more of a thrill than the flat."

Currently he can claim 5lb until he reaches forty winners when it drops to 3lb, but that can have its advantages and disadvantages.

"It gives the horse an advantage to carry a few pounds less, but being lighter I have to carry more lead, which is a dead weight.

"That is sometimes seen by owners as a negative, but I have won plenty carrying large amounts of lead so I am not so sure."

Sweeney is grateful for the support of his boss. "I'm very grateful to Bob for giving me the opportunities he has; there are not many trainers that would have given a 10lb claimer the chance to ride his horse in Grade 1 and 2 races as he did on The Sawyer, but he had faith in me and I appreciate it."

Sweeney hopes to be back in work by early September and ready to ride at the start of the winter season at the beginning of October, but as part of his development he will be spending time away at other yards.

He has already had some success on other trainers' horses, such as Lucy Jones for which he recently won three on the trot on Domino Dancer, and he has agreed with Buckler that he will spend two days of the week away from Henley.

Asked what was the best way to ride a horse Sweeney said: "If you are on the best horse in the race just do as little as possible. You need to be fit and have good balance, and only need help the horse when need be.

"Let things happen, make as little fuss as possible. Ruby Walsh is the best example, he sits very still and just steers the horse in the main. Sometimes you can be a hindrance if you try too hard; you can upset the horses rhythm."

HOWZAT! - The West Dorset cricket scene

SYMENE were the only local side in Dorset to avoid the weather this weekend and they strengthened their grip on second place in Sunday Division Four with a relatively easy win over Parley 2nds.

SUNDAY DIVISION FOUR: Symene 108-3 beat Parley 2nd 106 all out by seven wickets

LIAM Toohill was the star for Symene as they easily overcame Parley 2nds at Symondsburry. Symene had no luck in the early overs as four or five chances did not quite carry to hand and Parley reached 27 without loss.

However captain Graham Bartlett made the breakthrough with a couple of wickets as the East Dorset side slumped to 47-5, and despite some resistance from the number ten who hit 23 not out at the end to delay the completion, Parley were eventually dismissed for 106 all out.

Bartlett picked up 4-30 whilst Toohill's persistent line and length saw him collect 2-16 off 12 overs and Joe Hawkins - making a rare appearance - nabbed 3-14.

In reply Toohill added 43 with Nick Skyrme (12) for the first wicket before he and Phil Hawkins (16) put on another 40 for the second wicket. Toohill was eventually out for a fine 48 leaving Steve Prior and Richard Keech to secure the victory.

Promising strike partnership developing

BRIDPORT 4 BOURNEMOUTH POPPIES 4

MANAGER Trevor Senior would have been pleased with his strikers' performances following an entertaining draw with Bournemouth Poppies on Saturday at St Mary's Field.

The new partnership of Sam Charles and Matt Moors appears to be developing well with the former Weymouth striker bagging a brace and Moors, looking to return to full fitness after a season blighted with injury, producing an exquisite last gasp equaliser.

Senior will be slightly disturbed with the three goals his side conceded in the second half, describing them as "sloppy", but overall he would have pleased on how his side is taking shape.

The return of captain Darren Lock, Ryan Hayter, Dan Wise and Chris Clarke together with the inclusion of new faces Cameron Vere and Rob Fellingham from Seaton Town gave Senior more options as he rotated his side.

It looked like another good afternoon for the Bees as they continued in the form they showed against Dorchester Town the week before.

Adam Symes, who had another good game, dribbled past a couple of players before releasing Clarke, but the Poppies' keeper made a good save.

Senior gave a debut to keeper Andy Dennis but he was beaten soon after with an unstoppable volley to give Poppies the lead before he had to be replaced by Jamie Fry following a thigh injury.

Fry was forced into a good reaction save almost immediately, but the visitors increased their lead two minutes after the break when a cross was allowed to pass across the goalmouth where it was thumped home at the far post.

Charles, who has looked sharp

UPLYME and Lyme Regis' quest for promotion from the Devon League E Division took a knock at the weekend when their home match against Filleigh was rained off.

The game was switched to Chardstock because the village flower show was being held on the King George V field but the East Devon village wicket was waterlogged after heavy rain in the morning.

With six points awarded for an abandoned game, third placed Uplyme lost ground to Honiton who added 19 points to their tally after a four-wicket win over Kenn. Honiton, in second place, now have a 19-point lead over Uplyme.

Uplyme 2nds, however, did see some cricket away to Feniton in D Division East.

The home side scored 213-7 in their allotted overs with Steven Batey starring with the ball, finishing with figures of 4-54 off 13 overs.

Uplyme replied with 145-8 with Tim Daniel top scoring on 40 and good support coming from Batey (29), Rodney Rowe (13) and Michael Holding (13).

Hero of the afternoon for Uplyme was Brian Rattenbury who kept the Feniton bowlers at bay for nine overs, although he failed to trouble the scorer, helping Uplyme to seven points in a losing draw but keeping them in a mid-table position.

since returning for pre-season training, pulled one back with a fine volley from 18 yards following good work from Moors.

The Wessex League Premier Division side came back to restore their two goal advantage with another poorly defended goal, but Charles grabbed his second when he headed home Wise's tailored cross.

The tall, ambling striker might have completed his hat trick had he not been pushed to the ground as he was about to convert Moors pinpoint cross.

Wise made no mistake from the resultant penalty to square the game at 3-3.

The excitement was not finished as Bridport presented the Poppies with another goal through poor defending five minutes from time, but right at the death Moors took advantage of a poor clearance from the visiting keeper, and showing great presence he chipped the ball home from 30 yards.

Chinese share experience

VOLUNTEERS from Qingdao who hosted the sailing events for the 2008 Olympic Games in China visited the Weymouth and Portland National Sailing Academy (WPNSA) to share their experiences and offer advice.

Led by their president Mr Chen Fei, the Qingdao Volunteer Association shared their experiences and understanding after being the host location for the sailing events during the 2008 Beijing Games as part of a tour of the South West arranged by Weymouth College.

The delegation were joined by Sarah Kennedy, Weymouth and Portland 2012 Operations Team, Councillor Howard Legg, 2012 Brief Holder for the Borough, and representatives from Weymouth College who were involved with planning the cultural Olympiad and volunteering.

The Chinese contingent spoke with Chief Executive of the WPNSA, John Tweed, on logistical sporting venue elements as they toured the 2012 sailing venue from the water, and were able to get a real feel for where the racing will take place next summer.

The visit is also part of Weymouth College's expanding relationship with the Qingdao Volunteer Association.

Two groups of College Young Ambassadors visited Qingdao last year and met with representatives from the Volunteer Association who were part of the 2008 host city volunteer programme.

Paul Lonsdale, Deputy Principal, Weymouth College said: "When we visited Qingdao we were overwhelmed by the welcome we received, all the people we met were very helpful and friendly.

"It has been a real pleasure hosting this visit to Weymouth and Portland. Our Young Ambassadors have left a strong impression on Mr Chen Fei and the rest of the Chinese delegation.

"Weymouth College is committed to maintaining these links way beyond the games in order to maximise opportunities for young people to visit China and have life changing experiences as the 12 young people from Dorset have already done."

This visit represents another valuable asset to offer young ambassadors from Weymouth and Portland as a vehicle to travel globally and experience new cultures, and John Tweed said: "Having visited Qingdao myself for research purposes I was delighted to host the Asian guests during their UK trip. Their experience and commitment to event details is a huge knowledge bank that can teach us best practice to follow in running efficient sporting events on site."

LYME REGIS BOWLS

WITH PAUL MOFFITT

Best results so far this year

RESULTS

Dorset Men's Championship: Lyme 54, Poole Park 49 (B Gillett, E Skeemer, P Eagles, P Moffitt 13-24; C Clissold, J Eaton, S Pomeroy, P Pomeroy 22-16; R Richardson, T Allman, D Meylan, C Barber 19-9).

It was good to see Charlie Clissold helping us out as lead for Paul Pomeroy. This is a position that Charlie played at for many years in the first team and showed he can still strut his stuff.

West Dorset Men's Division One: Lyme A 76, Sherborne 54. M Knight, G Clode, D Pomeroy, B Parsons 26-14; M Thorne, R Hobbs, D Perry, J Wells 23-22; P Styphens, J Beadsley, J Moseley, J Irwin 27-18.

Division Two: R Turpin, D Wood, R Winterborne, J Belger 23-19; B Downes, N Solomon, R Moody, G Cozens 16-12; R McLennan, T Payne, B Stephens, R Cridge 16-15.

Dorset Ladies' Division One: Lyme 83, Wellworthy 48. H Dowling, D Courtenay-Smith, N Stephens, C Barber 27-19; J Moffitt, M Gillett, J Parsons, K Clissold 39-8; C Barber, M Bartlett, L Broom, S Rowe 17-21.

Friendlies: Lyme Men 81, Chardstock Men 76. J Eaton, J Hare, P Stephens, B Smith 15-21; C Clissold, K Gardiner, T Allman. P Moffitt 30-8; B Downes, A Curtis, E Rodgers, R Edwards 14-23; T Payne, N Solomon, D Wood, J Beadsley 22-24.

GOLF

Sunshine for the Greensomes

PAST CAPTAINS COMPETITION

WITH excellent weather and course conditions prevailing, 12 past captains of the Lyme Regis Golf Club took to the course last Thursday to contest the annual Greensomes competition, writes STEVE PERCIVAL.

The field, which included some notable captains of previous generations who were still well able to demonstrate their ability to satisfy the demands of the game and the course with which they were well familiar.

Of particular note was Paul Holmes who served as captain some 39 years ago but who is still able to hit a golf ball straight and true.

Organised by 2010 captain, Gerry Donlon, the competition, which was played in a highly competitive atmosphere, featured some highly creditable scores.

However, at the end of the day it was the formidable pairing of John Owen (18) and current South West Counties champion David Lock (5) with an exceptional 45 points.

The presentation of the winners cups was preceded by very convivial Dinner in the LRGC Restaurant which was also attended by a number of non-playing past captains.

MIDWEEK STABLEFORD

THE midweek stableford competition took place in relatively benign weather conditions and with the course in excellent condition to produce some excellent scores.

RESULTS: 1st, 38pts, Bernie Styles (20); 2nd, 38pts, Garath Hedges (3); 3rd, 38pts, Ed Lawrence (scratch).

CLUB SCRATCH CHAMPIONSHIP

THE first round of the club scratch championship featured a shock defeat for one of the most consistent club members of the past few years.

Playing off scratch against Peter Cogan, who normally has the comfort of playing of an 8 handicap, suffered the narrowest of defeats by one hole to a player who is a noted long hitter.

The match, which was 'nip and tuck' all the way was finally decided on the 18th when Peter drove the green whilst Roger Seed experienced a little problem with the surrounding bunkers and conceded the match.

Well done, Peter and commiserations to Roger.

Weymouth duo go close in foursomes

GOLF activity always steps up to top gear in the month of June and this year was no exception.

Weymouth Ladies Golf Club entered the silver and bronze handicap sections of the DLGGA's Interclub foursomes held at Broadstone, and Laura Dodington and Lisa Lown came close, losing in the semi-final play-off.

Having finished third to qualify for the top four play-off next day, they narrowly missed playing in the afternoon final by losing to Lyme Regis on the 18th green.

The first Open event, namely the 3 Ball Bowmaker, was held in sunny but somewhat windy conditions with 15 teams entering. The day was a great success and £140 will be donated to the Lady Captains charity the British Heart Foundation.

BOB BUCKLER RACING

WITH STUART BROOM

Ethiopia continues his great form

ETHIOPIA continued his great summer form with a fourth victory from six runs in the last three months. The eight-year-old finally got the better of Gaelic Flight after jumping the last to storm home by three lengths in the Visit Living Coasts Handicap Chase over three and a quarter miles at Newton Abbot on Sunday.

Carrying top weight of 11st 12lb, Ethiopia was ridden this time by amateur James Best following stable jockey Nathan Sweeney's unfortunate accident two weeks earlier when he was unseated from the horse at the same course and broke his right tibia.

Ironically Best broke both his legs in a fall last year and has just returned to the saddle earlier this season.

The race appeared to be between the veteran Gaelic Flight, Buckler's horse and 3/1 Jf Lord Describaa, but the latter eventually found the pace too much. It then looked like Will Kennedy's horse was the most likely winner as he opened a gap of two lengths approaching the second last fence, but Best got to work on Ethiopia and they jumped the last alongside before pulling away for victory.

Buckler said: "It was another very good win. He jumped well, and despite top weight gave a good performance as did James (Best) to win comfortably in the end.

"I feel sorry for Nathan as he has missed out on two winners unfortunately with Mister Matt having won a few days ago."

Youngsters get 'free' deal with Magpies

DORCHESTER Town Football Club are delighted to announce the launch of the 'Let's Be Avenue' membership scheme which will enable youngsters aged 16 and under, and Thomas Hardy School Sixth Form students, to watch Magpies home league games for free throughout the 2011/12 season.

Membership of the scheme is free, and anyone who is eligible for membership can sign up online by visiting magpiestrust.co.uk and selecting the 'Let's Be Avenue' option, or by completing a form available in the ticket office at the Avenue stadium.

All members will be provided with a membership card to be shown at the turnstiles on a matchday. All cards will need to be collected in person from the ticket office on a matchday and applicants should be prepared to show ID if required. Members will need to bring a passport sized photo with them when collecting their card.

Associate director Dan Fuge said "We trialled the Let's Be Avenue initiative in the second half of last season and made real progress in terms of attracting youngsters and their families to the club, many of whom had never been to a game before and are now regulars.

"Attracting youngsters to the Avenue stadium on a regular basis is a key strategy for the future development of the club.

"The number of new faces at games, and the improvement in the atmosphere around the club since the initiative was introduced has been evident.

"Club chairman Shaun Hearn should be applauded for allowing the initiative to continue this season in the form of an official membership scheme, especially considering the financial pressures on football clubs competing at this level.

"However, in the long term the free entry is undoubtedly of benefit to Dorchester Town and the feedback we have had so far is fantastic.

"The scheme is easy to join, youngsters can sign up online and then all they need to do is bring along a passport photo when they come to pick up their cards.

"Once again we have the cheapest admission prices in the league having frozen prices for the third successive year and the club is making every effort to enable individuals and families to be able to attend games."

Free entry will apply to home league fixtures only and does not include any cup games or pre season friendlies.

If you have any enquires please contact Dan Fuge by emailing dan@magpiestrust.co.uk.

Liam impresses in debut

LIAM Stopford gave an impressive display in his boxing debut when he took part in a Mini Gym competition at Southampton recently.

The event for 8-10 year olds is a foundation to prepare for future bouts, the boxers getting experience at fighting in front of crowds, being announced to the audience as well as the process of the medical staff and weighing in.

In his first display in a boxing ring Stopford boxed maturely for the first round setting the foundations for an explosive display of boxing skills.

In the second round the pace slowed as he used his defensive skills rather than the attack.

The third round saw opponent Delaney up the pace, producing an impressive tactical battle with both boxers having a fantastic last round.

Coach Ben Geyser said: "Liam proved it won't be long before he'll be grabbing titles for the club with excellent skills maintained throughout the bout by two talented nine-year-olds.

"The whole show was superb and perfectly executed and Liam can't wait for his next bout."

Youth manager makes plea for US trip

THE MANAGER of Bridport U11s football team is making a plea for donations to help fund a trip to the USA for his side in 2016.

Mark Scadding is contacting businesses and individuals to help raise funds for a return visit after the club received a request from a team in Seattle wishing to visit next year.

In his letter he outlined the future plans for the current U11 side saying: "For the past 11 years I have been involved with keeping grass roots youth football in the area open to all originally through my eldest son Brandon.

"I formed and ran an U7s team up to U15s over eight years with the original nine players.

"We were relatively successful and the lads spent two years raising £5,000 to enter the Isle of Wight 7's where we had the experience of playing an England Youth team.

"Having retired to be a watching parent I became involved again when the manager of the U7s, for which my twin sons played, went to university and I was asked to stand in.

"They have just won their league and three cups this season and the lads are really excited at the possibility of maybe hosting the side next season and then having the chance to play as an U16 side in 2015/16.

"The parents are determined to try and make their wish come true but will need some sponsorship to help fund the cost.

"I know 2016 sounds a long way off and it will be a lot to raise, but we will give it our utmost best shot and that's why I am appealing for any donations or sponsorship to help us achieve our aim."

Mark can be contacted by on 01308 458075, by emailing mark.scadding@btinternet.com or by writing to him at 7 St Katherine's Drive, Bridport, Dorset DT6 3DQ.

Heidi wins double award

HEIDI Silcox from Beaminster has picked up two awards at the recent annual Yeovil College Sports, Travel and Uniformed Public Services students ceremony.

The 19-year-old received the Fred Janes Award for Sportsmanship, named in honour of a former Yeovil College principal, and also the Sportswoman of the Year trophy.

Heidi has represented the college in rugby, athletics, football and rounders, as well as being selected for the South West Colleges' Ladies Rugby team for whom she was captain, as well as skippering the overall South West team when they competed at the national championships at Bath University earlier this year.

Another local student Alex Cossins (19) of Crewkerne received the Margaret Burge Award for Services to PE, presented in memory of a former Yeovil College lecturer, whilst the Old Yeovilians Award for Sportsmanship went to Tom Austin (17) of Weymouth.

The college works hard to instil a strong sense of sportsmanship and fair play into all its players and Tom showed particular commitment to these ethics.

Easy win for Portland U13s cricketers

PORTLAND U13s had an easy win in their latest match against Martinstown.

Batting first they got off to a great start with Jack Terry and Lewis Richards having to retire when they reached 25 before captain Ben Graham (20 not out) continued the scoring.

Although Martinstown dismissed Luke Strong (9) with a run out following an excellent piece of fielding, Portland's innings closed on an impressive 137-1.

Martinstown were in trouble from the start with Lukin Wilson striking in the first over before claiming two more wickets in his second.

James Green then produced a double wicket maiden which he followed up with another wicket in his second maiden over to give him figures of 3-0.

Wilson then claimed another two wickets to finish with 5-12 from five overs as Martinstown were dismissed for 24 all out.

Another win for Powerstock

POWERSTOCK Under 13s overcame Cerne Valley in their latest match.

Batting first they scored 125-9 with Bradley Mullins retiring on 26, and good contributions from Ryan White (21), Fergus Hathorn (18) and Billy Browning (15).

In reply Cerne Valley were dismissed for 59 with Rory Gillis (4), Toby Hibbs (2) and Alex Dovey and Connor Tett (one each) sharing the wickets.

Strikers grab the opportunity to shine

THERE is no doubt that the loss of Ryan Dovell to Dorchester Town was a big blow for Bridport.

His 20 league goals helped secure promotion and the first thing manager Trevor Senior did after their final game of the campaign at Truro City was to approach Dovell who confirmed he would be available this season.

However the former Hamworthy United and Poole Town striker has decided to try his luck with the Magpies. Aged 30 he felt this might be his last chance to play at a higher level, and although he has made an impression in the pre-season friendlies to date, there is no guarantee that he will be offered a contract.

Dovell however might find that a return to the Bees might not be as easy as he thought for both Sam Charles and Matt Moors have taken their chance to impress Senior and they are beginning to gel as a partnership, as was seen in both the match against Dorchester Town and last Saturday's visit of Bournemouth Poppies.

Senior felt that the 4-4 draw with the Wessex League Premier Division outfit was an excellent work out for his side.

"They are a very capable side and have some excellent players. We had the four missing first team players back this week and I thought they were good opposition for us.

"There was nothing anyone could do about their first goal, it was practically unstoppable, but I was disappointed by the last three, although we showed good character to get back on terms.

"Like the match against Dorchester we came from behind which is good, because it's something we struggled to do last season."

Commenting on the new partnership of Charles and Moors, Senior said: "Sam has looked very sharp this season and he took his goals well which will boost his confidence.

"We are taking the situation with Matt slowly after all his injuries last season and he has had 45 minutes in both games.

"His goals on Saturday and against Dorchester Town were excellently executed, and he and Sam are linking up well."

Although Senior would welcome Dovell's return with open arms, he might find himself with a nice headache and spoilt for choice.

The Bees boss was impressed once more by Adam Symes who he felt had been the best player over the two games: "Tristan Gale worked hard, as did Russell Legg."

There was also praise for both the Seaton trialists Cameron Vere and Rob Fellingham.

"Rob did very well when he came on at left wing back. He was up against an Algerian international who had a load of tricks and had his hands full.

"With Joe Charles also giving a solid display at centre back, I am hoping that there will be a bigger first team squad this year."
